Common Council Meets

Vote UR Facility

Mayor Raymond W. Garrahan's request to implement the Rondout Neighborhood Center under the Neighborhood Facilities Grant Reservation was approved during the Common Council session Tuesday night at City Hall.

Under the plan $193,512 will be given by the federal government to the urban renewal program with a Kingston Housing Authority contribution totaling $75,000. The entire cost of the facility will be $368,512, with the city's share of $96,756 to be paid by serial bonds over a 20-year period.

OK Street Work

The council approved a resolution authorizing the spending of $74,723 on reconditioning and resurfacing the city's streets. The resolution passed over vigorous objection of Fifth Ward Alderman Clifford Sinsabaugh (D), who sought to tack on two more streets—North Street and Conway Place—to the list.

The list of streets and appropriations are as follows: Burgevin Street, Lot 22 to Pearl Street, $3,835; Sharon Lane, Main Street to Lounsburg, $2,430; Fairmont Avenue, Main to Lounsburg, $933; Grant Court, $1,500; West O'Reilly, Mary's Avenue, 2,050 feet south, $12,640; Trenton Street, Andrew, 390 feet east, $1,820; Jarvis Street, Andrew, 385 feet east, $2,225; Tammany Street, East Chester, 900 feet east, $3,500; Kingston Terrace, East Chester Street Extension, 1000 feet east, $6,250; Lisa Lane, East Chester Street Extension, 600 feet east, $2,850; East Chester Street Extension, East Chester, 965 feet north, $7,238; Wood Street, East Chester to Tubby, $3,452; Cassidy Street, East Chester to Tubby, $3,740; Lincoln Street, Clifton Ave. to Florence, $5,668; Grant Street, Lincoln to Meade, $3,000; Manor Place, Roosevelt to Manor Avenue, $4,600; Harding Avenue, Savoy to Kiersted, $3,267; Charlotte Street to Roosevelt, $3,625; Wilbur Avenue, South Wall, drainage project, $2,150.

Besides the street reconstruction, there will be improvements made in Municipal Beach and John F. Kennedy Park to the tune of $13,720.

The council passed a resolution authorizing any extra funds from the project to be used for Sinsabaugh's two streets.

New Fire Truck

Also passed was a $69,800 outlay for the purchasing of a 90 foot hydraulic fire truck. The Finance Ways and Means Committee will issue and sell serial bonds not to exceed 10 years to cover the cost of the apparatus.

The Police Department also benefited from the meeting, wherein the purchasing of six police cruisers was granted. The new Ford four-door sedans will cost $9,104. The money for the project will be transferred from an unused fund that had originally been designated for a parking lot behind City Hall.

Some Meters to Go

A request by City Treasurer Orrie R. Riehl to remove parking meters from the west side of Broadway from West Pierpont Street to Abel Street, was granted. The approximately 25 meters had suffered "irreparable damage."

Passed also was a resolution to replace 35 voting machines to implement some newly created districts and to replace machines that are 35 years old or more.

Several zoning changes were carried. 163 Pine Street was changed from an "R-2" to a "C-3" designation and 12-18 Lucas Avenue was changed from a "C-2" to a "C-3".

Trip requests for the Kingston laboratory personnel and the City Clerk were granted.

Referred to committee was the mayor's request that the council, "study some plan for proper operation of the mayor's office." Incorporated in the request was a boost in the mayor's salary from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, with a $1,200 expense account, an executive assistant's salary at $8,500 with a $500 expense account, a secretary's salary at $5,000 and a combined office expense of $3,500.

Referred to corporation counsel was the $100,000 alleged personal injury suit of John Clapper, 13 Union Street, reportedly slipped on ice and broke the neck of the left humerus—the long bone of the upper arm or forelimb extending from the shoulder to the elbow. Rusk, Rusk and Feeney are handling the case for the claimant.

300 Reds Killed In Raging Battles

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Infantrymen and South Vietnamese paratroopers today reported killing more than 300 Communist troops in two battles more than 400 miles apart. Another American unit north of Saigon uncovered one of the largest enemy arms caches of the war.

While the ground fighting raged from the Mekong Delta in the south to South Vietnam's northernmost provinces, U.S. fighter-bombers kept the aerial pressure on North Vietnam. American pilots flew through overcast skies Tuesday, using radar controls and bombing through breaks in the clouds to pound the main rail lines running northeast and northwest from Hanoi to Red China.

A U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief was downed by ground fire in North Vietnam today but the pilot, Mai, Charles C. Vasiliadis, 39, of Huntington, N.Y., was pulled from the jungle by a helicopter 36 minutes later. It was the 529th American combat plane reported lost in the war against North Vietnam.

Endorse Bechtold, Gallo

Liberals Split Preference on City Ticket

Liberal Party endorsement of major party candidates, as announced today by Stephen Korchowsky, Liberal Party county chairman, largely favors Democrats in the county, but split evenly on major city candidates.

C. John Bechtold, Republican mayoral candidate, gained Liberal endorsement, and T. Robert Gallo, incumbent Democratic Ninth Ward alderman, is backed as candidate for councilman-at-large. Bechtold will oppose incumbent Raymond W. Garrahan for mayor and Louis J. Smith is Republican candidate for councilman-at-large.

Among county candidates, incumbent County Judge Raymond Mino, was endorsed for reelection but after that the Liberal Party went for Democrats as its choice for other major county offices.

C. JOHN BECHTOLD

It favors David M. Barnovitz of Kingston for district attorney in preference to Republican Joseph Torraca, of Highland, Ronald E. Newman, of New Paltz against incumbent William S. Keyser of Kingston for coroner and Arnold Banker, Town of Hardenbergh against Republican Fred H. DuBois, of New Paltz, for county treasurer.

Among candidates for councilmen and legislators only one Republican candidate, George Margolis, incumbent First Ward alderman, who has been designated as GOP candidate in the newly created Second District composed of the First, Second and 10th wards.

Other councilman candidates, all with Democratic endorsement are:

First District, composed of the 11th, 12th and 13th wards are: John P. Heitzman, former 12th Ward alderman; Joseph Conlin and James G. Gardner.

T. ROBERT GALLO

eral Party endorsement is Joseph Polanco.

Third District: Emilio J. Primo Jr., incumbent Fourth

Ward alderman and Clifford Sinsabaugh, incumbent Fifth Ward alderman, both Democrats, received Liberal Party endorsement.

The Third District is composed of the Third, Fourth and Fifth Wards.

Fourth District: Edward Norton, incumbent Democratic Seventh Ward alderman, and Peter J. Mancuso, incumbent Democratic Eighth Ward alderman. The district is composed of the present Sixth through Ninth wards.

Democrats endorsed for legislators are:

First District: Frank Nadschal and John Coffey.

Second District: William F. Edelmuth, former Kingston mayor and Orrie R. Riehl, present Kingston City treasurer.

Third District: Frank Fuscardi and Joseph Scully.

Fourth District: Daniel Smith and John Lucci.

Court Rejects Redistricting Of City; Census Not Used

A unanimous decision of the Appellate Division, Supreme Court, handed down Tuesday in the local reapportionment controversy will not effect the election of eight county legislators from the four districts of the City of Kingston, that is the opinion of County Attorney Abram F. Molyneux.

The decision applies only to the election of city aldermen, Molyneux stated. The board of supervisors was within its power to fix the number of legislative districts and the number of county legislators but has no jurisdiction in the reapportionment of the Common Council, the Appellate Division holds.

On Aug. 19, 1966, Special Term directed the Common Council to reapportion and redistrict in accordance with the principal of one man, one vote. In conformance with this mandate a plan was devised which provided for 13 single member districts, an alderman-at-large and eight county supervisors elected at large.

This plan was rejected by special term on the grounds that the population figures utilized were based on an informal head count rather than the 1960 census and that the geographical boundaries of existing wards in the City of Kingston were all readjusted.

The court holds that Special Term properly rejected the city's plan on the grounds that its population figures were not based on a federal census.

Does Not Concur
The Appellate Court does not concur in the special terms rejection of the plan on the grounds that it disturbed the boundaries of election districts and further confused the electorate.

"The rule would appear to be that where the county has not adopted a charter form of county government the county fixes the number of supervisors allotted to the city, but the city sets the boundaries and establishes the districts for the election of such supervisors," the court holds.

"Accordingly the case should be remitted to Special Term to which the city shall promptly return with a plan for redistricting its Common Council based on federal census figures and in conformity with proper standards of distribution," the court rules.

Elect Both Reynolds in Light Vote

T. W. REYNOLDS JR.
New Member

Incumbent Milton L. Reynolds and Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., were elected to the Kingston Schools Consolidated Board of Education Tuesday in what was considered a light vote.

2,222 At Polls

Some, 2,222 district voters went to the polls to give Milton Reynolds a vote of 1,691 and Thomas Reynolds, 1,338.

Others seeking the two five-year board terms were Mrs. Winifred Fallon, 356 votes; Richard Hajec, 287 and Thomas J. Wickman, 576.

Milton Reynolds, the first Negro ever elected to the local school board, assumed the post in 1966 to fill the unexpired term of Francis Stern-Montagny. He is a former mathematics instructor who is now a staff programmer at IBM, Kingston.

Thomas Reynolds, proprietor of the Tom Reynolds Photography Studio, has long been active in the community and is chairman of the Salvation Army Advisory Board. He was endorsed by the Independent Committee for School Board Elections.

Both men are Kingston residents.

Last year, more voter response was registered with 3,140 casting ballots. Milton Reynolds was elected by a 1,253 tally at that time.

Board members are responsible for hiring and dismissal of all personnel in the district, setting of educational policy within state standards, setting of salaries above state minimums and close scrutiny of all fiscal policies of the district.

Unlike rural school districts where voters approve yearly budgets, city school boards approve budgets after a public hearing.

Budget Under Study

The current budget for 1966-67 is $9,467,651. The new budget now being studied by the board is expected to be larger. Date of the public hearing has not been set.

The board meets tonight for canvass of votes according to state law. At the regular meeting action will be taken on resignations, leaves of absence and appointments of profession and service personnel.

Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, will give his monthly report. The board will consider a proposal for cooperative bidding on bread.

Area Schools Vote

Multimillion Dollar School Budgets Approved

Three area school districts approved multimillion dollar budgets Tuesday while other districts in the county go to the polls today to elect school board members and pass on more school money.

RV Results

At Rondout Valley Central School District a record budget of $3,589,022 was approved by a 93 vote margin after lengthy discussion Tuesday night. Three board members were elected also.

Mrs. Eleanor Black of Kerhonkson was elected to the post vacated by Donald DuBois of Kerhonkson. She received 527 votes to win over her opponent, Jack Van Newkirk of Allgerville who received 320 votes. A third candidate for the post, Daniel Slobodan of Kerhonkson, withdrew earlier.

George Stockin of Kerhonkson, running unopposed received 646 votes and Clarence Coogan of Binnewater, also unopposed, received 623 votes.

Both are incumbents. Voting on the budget was 78 cast with 435 yes; 342 no and four blank ballots.

Paltz Vote Light

New Paltz voters approved a central school budget of $1,866,798.38. Officials termed the 117 to 11 vote "light."

The budget is the first to contain full payment on the principle of the bond issue for the new senior high school now under construction at South Putt Corners Road, one mile south of Route 299.

Voting will take place today 2 to 9 p. m. at the Central School auditorium to fill three board posts. Robert Reid, board president, and Richard Fell, board member, are running unopposed. John Toben opposes incumbent Harry Cornwell.

Saugerties Increase

Saugerties Central School District budget of $3,476,142.14 was approved 260 to 61 at a meeting Tuesday night. The 1967-68 budget will mean an increase of 62 cents on each thousand dollars of assessed valuation in the district.

Voters go to the polls from noon to 9 p. m. today to select three board members from the seven candidates running in the hotly contested campaign.

Running for the three-year posts are Henry P. Brietenbach, Ann F. Karashay and Edwin E. Olson, all seeking reelection and Harry Anders, Velma R. Wright, Bruce K. Dederick and George W. Poythress.

Stormy Contest Due

Perhaps the stormiest contest on the county scene will be decided in Ellenville today as voters trek to the polls between noon and 8 p. m.

Also to be decided is the $2,507,442 school budget; $57,800 library budget and $26,500 for the purchase of five school buses. The latter item will be in three annual installments with $9,000 of the amount included in the current budget.

Three incumbents seeking reelection to the board are Paul G. Henderson, Thomas C. Thompson of Napanoch and Franklin D. Sahler of Ellenville.

Board president Reuben Benson and Benjamin Miller, vice president of the board are not seeking reelection.

Other candidates are Charles Burger of Wawarsing and Jeffrey L. Dent of Ellenville. The Citizens Committee for Public Education in Ellenville is running a slate of five Ellenville residents: Richard M. McDole, James J. Murray, Frederick R. Van Keuren, Dr. Sanford Rubenstein and John B. Gillette.

Onteora Voting

Onteora Central School District residents will vote today on a proposed budget of $3,493,166 and select four of the 10 candidates running for the board. Candidates are Harry Castiglione of Woodstock, Charles Newcomb of Woodstock, Arthur Sampson of Olivebridge; Norman Wilbur Jr. of Mt. Tremper, Patrick Dodge of Shokan, Herbert Epstein of Phoenicia, Charles Jackson of Samsonville, Jack Kahn of West Hurley, Peter Tosi of Boiceville and Lili Bernant of West Hurley.

Governor Vetoes 'Liuni' Bill On Infant Custody

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Legislation that would have given foster parents "first consideration" for the permanent custody of a child they shelter for more than two years has been vetoed by Gov. Rockefeller.

The legislation was prompted by a controversial adoption case involving Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liuni of Tillson and a 4-year-old girl for whom they had cared since she was five days old. After several court fights, the Liunis were successful in their bid for permanent custody.

Some Not Satisfied

Rockefeller said in his veto message Tuesday that although he supported the objectives of the measure, social welfare experts had told him that many foster parents' homes are suitable to care for children temporarily but not permanently. The governor also noted that the bill "fails to take cognizance of these differences and the real need in some cases to extend boarding arrangements for periods of greater than two years, the bill could have a serious detrimental effect on adoption placements, and would not be in the best interest of the children—the paramount public concern in every case."

The measure would have given foster parents who have cared for a child for at least two years "preference and first consideration" over other applicants for permanent custody of the child.

BETH LIUNI

wide attention when the Ulster County welfare commissioner refused to permit the Italian-American family to adopt the blonde blue-eyed Elizabeth St. John. The commissioner argued that the Liunis were too old at 48 to adopt the girl.

The Liunis said they were refused initially because the child is fair-skinned and blonde and they are not.

No Abrupt, Swift Cuts

Mansfield Urges Phase by Phase Troop Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield urged today a "phase by phase reduction" of U.S. troops in Europe, and said a planned 35,000-man cutback is a good start in that direction.

The chief Senate advocate of a substantial reduction in U.S. troop commitments in Europe also indicated he will seek to keep the pressure on for continuing withdrawals.

But Mansfield said in an interview he is not seeking abrupt, swift reductions.

"I realize that these things can't be done overnight," he said.

Closed Session Today

Secretary of State Dean Rusk discusses the troop issue today at a closed session of a special Senate panel headed by Mansfield.

It is considering a series of resolutions on the topic—chief among them, a measure sponsored by Mansfield and 43 other senators—that would have the Senate declare itself in favor of substantial U.S. troop reductions in Europe.

"We don't intend to end the hearings in a hurry," Mansfield said. "We're not going to rush out with any findings."

The hearings will continue to focus attention on the topic and on the Mansfield resolution, which the Johnson administration opposes.

The United States announced Tuesday a plan to withdraw up to 35,000 Army and Air Force personnel, plus their dependents, from West Germany.

Great Britain and West Germany endorsed the move as part of an effort to cut the cost of European defense.

$100 Million Saving

Administration officials estimated the manpower transfer would mean savings of about $100 million a year in foreign exchange expenditures.

The withdrawal of U.S. troops and of four squadrons of U.S. warplanes will not begin before next Jan. 1. Under the three-nation agreement, Britain would withdraw 5,000 men and a squadron of aircraft.

While the administration announcement emphasized cost reduction, Mansfield labeled the move "a sound foreign policy decision on the part of the administration."

For Two Divisions

Mansfield advocates a reduction from six U.S. divisions in Europe to two divisions.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he would not favor reductions as drastic as those recommended by Mansfield. But he said some additional forces could be safely withdrawn.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who contends a substantial cut in American forces would invite trouble in Europe, said the 35,000-man cutback would not reduce overall combat capability because the men could swiftly be returned if needed.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., said, "I think we must leave some troops there, but we can reduce our commitments even more."

Speaker Calls Fire Police 1st Line to Public

Described as the "first line of public relations which should protect the good image of the fire service," members of the Ulster County Fire Police Association, meeting in annual dinner-session at New Paltz Saturday night, listened to a talk by Attorney Jerome Cornfield of Suffern on the subject of the duties of the fire police, the need for legislative protection, and the necessity for increased patriotism.

Held in Paltz

The 11th annual dinner, held at the VFW Hall in New Paltz, found Alvin Beatty, past president and director of the association, in the role of toastmaster. President Kenneth Dimsey of Modena welcomed over 75 members and guests at the dinner.

Guests who were introduced and spoke briefly were former Fire Chief Joseph Murphy of Kingston, Winfred Snyder of Hurley, Ulster County Fire coordinator, and Police Commissioner Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston.

Introduced as "the man who drew up the necessary papers to create the fire police," Cornfield explained the duties of the fire police and cautioned against over stepping of powers granted to fire police as peace officers.

Cornfield said that the fire police had become the public relations people of the fire department, that they were very essential in the work of the volunteer fire departments, that there should be "no laying on of hands in your work," and that you are the "first line of public relations which should protect the good image of the fire service."

Keep Present Setup

The speaker also warned against indicated thinking in the present move to revise the state constitution which could result in the consolidation of fire districts and the possible elimination of some of the present fire service. "The cheapest and best service of government today is the fire service," said the Suffern attorney who described the present service as the "last democratic operation in the state." He asked where else would one find "help by neighbor attitude that is found today in the volunteer fire departments?"

Cornfield also attacked the lack of patriotism evident in modern living. He pointed to the tearing and burning of the American flag, the speeches against the government, and the demonstrations, and said that "it was time that people like you stood up and said a few words"—in defense of the country.

The naming of May 1 as "Law Day" was underscored by Cornfield as a "day to rededicate ourselves to the principles of democracy."

Attorney Cornfield explained that these principles of democracy include the thoughts that "there is a Creator, that man has individual rights, and that man has a government to protect these rights." Opposed to this are the thoughts that "there is no God, that man has no individual rights, and that the state is all powerful." He closed his remarks on the theme that "it is the duty of the volunteer firemen to maintain our system, to remember our pledge to the American flag, and to let the world know our thoughts."

At the conclusion of the meeting Hillary Schultz of the State Department of Fire Protection, showed a film concerning the methods of fire fighting and protection of the individual's possessions during and after a fire.

Park Favored In Korean Vote

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Eighty per cent of South Korea's 13.9 million registered voters were expected to vote today in the presidential election, and President Chung Hee Park was favored to win a second term.

U.S. and South Korean troops along the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea sharpened their vigilance against Communist disturbances along the border. After the election campaign began a month ago, the Communists stepped up their attacks along the 151-mile truce border.

President Park, who heads the Democratic Republican party, and his chief opponent, former President Yun Po-sun, were among the early voters in Seoul, the capital. The 49-year-old president exchanged smiles with district election committee officials and scores of voters and newsmen.

Park made no political remarks at the poll but Yun, 69, leader of the Shinmin (New Democratic) party, said he hoped the election would be fair. The day was declared a holiday by the government. Absentee ballots from 45,000 troops and civilians stationed in South Vietnam arrived before the polls opened.

Progress Group Meeting Today

Members of Mid Hudson Pattern for Progress, Inc., a privately financed regional planning, research and development corporation, are holding their second annual meeting today at the Holiday Inn, Route 17K, Newburgh. The organization, which grew out of a 1964 regional conference at State University College, New Paltz, now has a membership of some 260 individuals and organizations, representing a wide range of interests in the seven-county region.

Its chief aim is to work with other organizations, both public and private, in promoting the development of a healthy viable economy for the region, while, at the same time, enhancing its historic, cultural and scenic values. In the words of Lelan F. Sillin Jr., Pattern's board chairman and one of its founders, "It is our belief that the voice of citizens, backed by objective, sound research and planning, will tend to encourage and help government make decisions that are responsive to the region's needs, and decisions that are most likely to enhance the regional opportunities for optimum, social and scenic development."

Since last September, when C. David Locks, former director of the Twin Cities Planning Commission, was appointed Pattern's president and chief executive officer, the organization has been gradually acquiring a professional staff and is now about half way toward meeting this objective.

Based at the New Paltz campus, Pattern operates on an annual budget of $150,000, all of it contributed by members.

Principal purpose of the annual meeting, according to Sillin, is to "provide members with as much information as possible about the organization, where we have been and where we are going, and to offer them an opportunity to actually participate through the election of a Board of Directors slate."

Among the topics being discussed are higher education, governmental relations, mem-

Negroes Lose Special Vote In Sunflower

By VERNON GUIDRY JR.

SUNFLOWER, Miss. (AP) — Negro civil rights forces apparently lost their first major grass roots political fight in this delta area, where Negroes outnumber whites.

However, a federal court suit was in the making, alleging that the municipal election in Sunflower was not held "in a fair and impartial manner."

Outnumbered Whites

Registered Negro voters outnumber white voters in Sunflower 185-153. But when the votes were counted Tuesday, white candidates for mayor and aldermen held a decisive edge.

Mayor W. L. Patterson, who has held the $50 a month post for 12 years, defeated Otis Brown Jr., 21, by a count of 194-123 — indicating that Patterson drew some Negro support despite the aggressive Negro campaign to split the balloting along racial lines.

"I campaigned to get the votes of some of the good Negroes, but not those radicals in the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party," said Patterson.

Poll officials gathered the ballot boxes after the count and took them to a bank where they were placed in a vault.

The special elections here and in nearby Moorhead were ordered by a federal court. Moorhead, however, was not considered the prime battleground because white voters there outnumbered Negro voters, 390-310.

Count Delayed

At Moorhead, the ballot count was discontinued Tuesday night with Mayor Wesley I. Unchurch holding a 370-264 lead over Jimmy Lee Douglas. White councilmen also were ahead.

The ballot count resumes today.

The heavy Negro registration in both towns came after the 1965 elections were voided by the court on the ground that Negroes were not given enough time to get on the registration rolls.

Tigress Escapes Cage

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — A 500-pound tigress that had "raved" through its cage and "escaped" aboard a Danish ship bound for Scotland was "drugged" and quietly captured by Edinburgh Zoo officials.

The tigress was holed up in a cabin on the cargo ship Borreby. Zoo officials shot a harmless hypodermic dart into her and when she was asleep, put her in "a cage."

POWER MOWERS

The grass is greener and higher now as a result of the seasonal warm weather over the weekend. This means that the chore of keeping the grass cut is at hand.

The National Safety Council issues a timely warning for those who use power mowers and there are more than 26 million of them around the country's houses. The Council points out that 100,000 persons are injured in the United States every year by rotary power mowers.

Studies show that the most common injury is caused by an object thrown by the rotary blade. A rock, piece of wood or wire, a bolt or a nail, almost anything that can be hidden in the grass can lead to serious injury. The injured person is usually the operator, but too often it's a child playing nearby or some other innocent bystander.

Most mowers comply with safety standards, but using it safely is up to the operator. Poor maintenance is one cause of a mishap. A loose blade can fly off or the end of the blade can be fractured by striking a hard object and then hurled like shrapnel.

There are many precautions operators can take to cut down on the number of injuries. First, study the instruction manual and stick by the guidelines. Then, before mowing clear the area of children, adults and pets and pick up any objects that might be thrown by the blade. While mowing, never leave the mower, even for a moment, or try to unclog it without first stopping the engine.

A power lawn mower is probably the most dangerous piece of machinery a person can have around the house. Careful adherence to the above safety hints may save you and your family from serious injury.

STALIN'S DAUGHTER

By now, the press conference given by Mrs. Svetlana Alliluyeva, daughter of the late Soviet dictator Josef Stalin, has been widely reported and shown. Comment here will be limited to a few of her impressive remarks.

On Stalin's purges: "If I feel somewhat responsible for those horrible things, killing people unjustly, I feel that responsibility for this is the party's, the regime and the ideology as a whole . . . Many other people who still are in our Central Committee and Politburo should be responsible for the same things for which he alone was accused."

On freedom here and in the Soviet: "Of course there are more democratic freedoms here. There is no doubt about it."

Can religion and Communism exist together: "I don't think that class struggle and revolution can go hand in hand with idea of love—no, I don't think they could be joined together."

What dogmas of Communism have lost their meanings: "I believe that in modern world, in the century of atom bomb and space flights, the idea of class revolution which can bring people to progress has lost its significance."

How were you restricted: "I had perhaps a privileged life. But, as you know, people cannot live only by bread."

Do you intend to apply for American citizenship: "Well, I think that before the marriage it should be love. So, if I will love this country and this country will love me, the marriage will be settled. I cannot say now."

A remarkable person, an amazing revelation of Soviet life, hazards and yearning. One can only hope that she will come to love this country and this country will have reason to love her.

SAFEGUARDING WITNESSES

In the last two years, two Government witnesses were killed before they could testify, apparently the victims of crime syndicate enforcers. Three prosecuting attorneys and their families were threatened with death if they continued work on their cases. Dozens of witnesses were threatened with death if they testified.

Such gangland threats and occurrences have led the Justice Department to arrange with the Department of Defense to help protect witnesses and prosecutors when trials are imminent and to make other protective arrangements thereafter for those who might be subjected to continued reprisals. In fact, the Justice Department has changed the identities of witnesses in such cases and relocated them to thwart gang revenge.

A section of an unused building or barracks on an army post nearest the trial site is assigned for the use of witnesses, prosecutors and their families where the military is on duty around the clock. In the past, witnesses had to be guarded in hotel rooms, which were often violated.

The need to safeguard witnesses and prosecutors emphasizes the desperate stage the war on organized crime has reached. People who are either complacent or definitely inimical to law enforcement actually are on the side of the criminals. For these persons are moved to bold action by the apparent disinterest of people in seeing that the law is enforced.

Reagan Is Becoming Serious Challenger.

WASHINGTON.—Against all form, the race for the Republican Presidential nomination of next year is with time widening rather than narrowing.

Only two months ago it had seemed really only a two-man affair between the then front-runner, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, and the strongly challenging former Vice-president Richard Nixon. Today, there are at least four perfectly valid "possibles" for the nomination. The reason is that two new and powerful factors have entered the scene.

The first is a steadily increasing likelihood that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California may wind up a contender rather than, as had previously been thought, simply an ally held in reserve for Richard Nixon. The other new factor reflects the ferment caused by the Vietnam war issue. For the increasing bitterness of the antiwar or yes-but fragment in the United States Senate is plainly redeploying forces within the G.O.P.

When, some weeks ago, Romney cleared up past ambiguities and in substance adopted the bipartisan policy of support for firm American military resistance to the Communist invaders of South Vietnam, a game of musical chairs was opened.

Freshman Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois until then had been slowly moving from a soft-line attitude toward the hard line — led most of all by Nixon — that characterizes the generality of his party, including former President Eisenhower and all the Republican leaders in Congress.

Now that Romney has abandoned the dove position, however, thus leaving it substantially unoccupied, Percy is turning back in the other direction — that is, toward a soft line, indeed — along with such remote Presidential availability as Sen. Mark Hatfield of Oregon.

The situation, as it now stands, thus finds four major possibilities for the nomination — Nixon, Romney, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, and Reagan — all supporting the hard line, with Percy for all practical purposes alone now holding the ground for the soft-line side of the argument.

This is another way of saying that, barring some giant overturn, the Vietnam war can hardly be made into a political issue against President Johnson, or his successor as the Democratic nominee if the President does not seek re-election, in the Republican National Convention of next summer.

It could be made a genuine issue, in short, only should the convention decide to reject all of its four leading aspirants for the nomination now occupied at most by two men — Percy and Hatfield — and only if the vast majority of Republican leaders, from General Eisenhower on down through Congress, should conclude that the party's long stance in favor of the war could or should be abandoned.

As to Reagan specifically, he is raising perhaps the most interesting and significant questions in the entire race.

No doubt advised by one of the savviest young pros within the party, Lieut-Gov. Robert Finch, a former senior political aide to Nixon, Reagan is moving more and more into the posture of a serious challenger in his own right. He has, for example, tightly closed the door to consideration as the party's Vice — Presidential nominee, and he has left that door clearly ajar for the top spot.

It is plain, moreover, that his name is going to go into western and midwestern presidential primaries with his tacit consent even though he takes the usual course of "discouraging" supporters from entering him outside California.

True, he does not propose, actively, to campaign. But in everything he is doing, including his persistent efforts to unify the party and his repeated absolutions of those Republicans who have previously been hostile to him, he is coming closer and closer to taking the plunge.

The long and short of it is that he has progressively, and now very nearly totally, erased the old impression of himself as only a lucky amateur and as some sort of "right-wing extremist" who had no acceptability outside the Barry Goldwater faction of the G.O.P.

On the whole, too, there can be little doubt any more that within the once skeptical and even hostile wing of the Eastern Republican party Reagan is picking up a great deal of toleration and even a good deal of potential support among Republicans whose first choice still would be Nixon, who is basically a moderate, but who would come closer to taking Reagan in a pinch than anyone had thought possible only weeks ago.

Henry J. Taylor Says

The Kennedys and Somebody Else's Money

The Senate committee report cites Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's use of other people's money. Senator Dodd is a poor man. What about the very rich?

The most fascinating economic subject in the United States today is the Kennedy family—and somebody else's money.

It has all the earmarks of the encircling sieges made famous by Louis XIV.

Bobby, speaking so often of the poor, swooped down on the people's New York Post Office like an Apache brave counting scalps and disrupted this utility for four months by demanding super-space there, it being free. That bite with the reconstruction, was on a scale hitherto unknown.

Then Bobby charges us luckless serfs for his chosen rings, furniture, fixtures and trappings. This writer, at least, finds it especially galling when the very rich—silently, oh, so silently—spend our money when they should spend their own.

Junior New York Senator Kennedy keeps the largest staff on the public payroll of any Senator in Washington, according to the Senate Secretary's official report. And the board is under a lead-off payroll at $23,769 (taxpayers' money) a year.

Those who sit on a Matterhorn of parental money are a bad risk for the taxpayers. They easily forget from whom the money comes, and the current Kennedy generation got off to an early start.

In fact, apparently one reason intimate friend Paul B. Fay Jr., whom President Kennedy appointed Under Secretary of the Navy, now describes himself as being in the family doghouse is due to the same subject: money.

In Fay's innocent book, "The Pleasure of His Company," page 10, Fay forthrightly quotes father Joseph P. Kennedy a few years ago at Palm Beach: "I don't know what's going to happen to this family when I die. There is no one in the entire family, except Joan and Teddy, who is living within their means. No one appears to have the slightest concern for how much money they spend." It was somebody else's money.

Well, Teddy, too, proves to be quite a hit-man himself. He has announced a five-town kindergarten program centered in Waltham, Mass., that rivals an Arab fantasia. And, yes, it involves somebody else's money.

This comes fresh on the heels of the publicized Donnybrook at nearby Cambridge when the family put public subscriptions into a Harvard Branch and got the university to rename it the John F. Kennedy School of Government, backing the 11-man governing committee with four hard-core Kennedy associates and six friends of the family.

In Massachusetts the taxpayers' yearly cost is approximately $550 per child in the higher elementary and secondary public schools.

Nationally, the privately operated kindergartens, employing college-trained teachers, charge about the same as this for the 10-month term. The cost means around $83,000 for 150 children.

neat $222,642 of the Federal taxpayers' money, us luckless serfs, will be siphoned there by (brother-in-law) Sarxent Shriver's Office of Economic Opportunity under a Head Start Self-Help, Inc., kindergarten splurge for 150 kiddies.

The bite on the Federal taxpayers is $1,484.28 per child. The utterly inexplicable excess of this $222,642 over the average private kindergarten costs exceeds $139,000 for only these 150 children, and Shriver, showing the deleterious aspects of the lush dynasty, has staked out heaven knows how many Waltham farraozes across the country.

No amount of criticism, no revelation—nothing—seems to faze these people.

Shriver's Job Corps flew 13,602 enrollees home for Christmas in 1965 at a colossal cost in spite of public protests, and then flew home 8,546 in 1966 all over again.

Military men and women stationed in the United who were lucky enough to get Christmas leave had to buy their own plane, train or bus tickets out of their service pay—which is often less than that of the Job Corps enrollees. And the Job Corps ones didn't have to stand in line like other Americans must. They're transported in chartered (taxpayers') planes.

No wonder every place I go across our country I find a feeling of confusion, anxiety, and impatience—a nagging feeling that, after all, our country's sacrifices have really got it nowhere.

Soviet Word on 6th Fleet New Attempt to Reduce U.S. Power

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Once in a while, for some unexplained reason, a big piece of news gets printed one day and is ignored on succeeding days.

On April 24, Reuters News service of London distributed a dispatch to American newspapers reporting that Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev had told a meeting of Communist party leaders from 24 countries gathered in Czechoslovakia that the United States Sixth fleet must get out of the Mediterranean. He declared:

"There is no justification for the permanent presence of the United States Navy in the waters washing the shores of southern Europe . . . the time has come for the demand for the removal of the United States sixth fleet from the Mediterranean Sea to sound loudly."

Officials at the State Department brushed the matter aside, and merely commented that the fleet had been in the Mediterranean since 1946 and that it was going to stay there.

But what was behind the demand of the Communist party leader, who undoubtedly had talked the whole thing over with officials of the Soviet government before he made his speech? Apparently, as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is about to be weakened militarily, the Russians have seized the opportunity to try to force a diminution of American naval power in European waters.

The Soviet strategy today is obvious. The Russians are seeking to obtain warm-water ports and eventually to control the Mediterranean. This is believed to be the reason for their demand aid in massive quantities to Algeria and Egypt, and explains their efforts to support Arab nationalism, too.

As long as the United States fleet is in the Mediterranean, it will exert a potential power. For if that body of water were in Russian hands, with the entrances and exits controlled by the Russian navy, Europe could be starved of its oil and shut off from trade routes to the east.

The U.S. sixth fleet consists of 50 ships — including two or three large carriers—200 modern jets and 30,000 men. Its presence gives strength to the southern flank of NATO and reassures Greece and Turkey, both of whom are members of NATO, that the United States will not desert them. Tunisia and Morocco are dependent on the sixth fleet to be in a position to support them in the feeding with Soviet-backed Algeria.

The Soviet Union once in recent years caused the United States to back down somewhat from its strategic position in the Mediterranean. In early 1963 the Jupiter medium-range ballistic missiles were removed from bases in Greece and Turkey. It was reported at the time that this was an exchange with Russia for its withdrawal of medium-range missiles from Cuba in the autumn of the previous year. The Turks objected vehemently to the pulling out of the missiles from Turkey, but were later placated when submarine-based polaris missiles replaced the land-based Jupiters.

There is a significant reason for the continued presence of United States ships in the Mediterranean. While their main function is defensive, an offensive power is also available in the Polaris nuclear submarine force in the area, it operates independently of the sixth fleet, but serves as one of the major deterrents to Soviet nuclear attack. This Polaris force, with at least six nuclear submarines on patrol all the times, has the power in its 96 atomic missiles to devastate key industry and military regions of southern Russia that could not possibly be covered from Polaris submarines operating anywhere else. Submarines are the most invulnerable of all strategic weapons.

The United States is as eager as any other nation in the world to prevent a nuclear war. Hence, reliance is placed today on the strategic allocation of deterrent power so as to make a potential aggressor in a nuclear war see he will be subject to a devastating retaliation.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

WE ARE INDEED AN INNOCENT PEOPLE

Ramparts Magazine, which thinks the Cold War is a thing of the past, has made the delighted discovery that America is a terribly unsophisticated country. It speaks about the "New Innocence" which is shocked by the revelations that the CIA did what it could to protect this country back in the days when Nikita Khrushchev was putting missiles into Cuba and double agents were tipping Mao Tse-tung off to the fact that General Douglas MacArthur would not be allowed to bomb those strategic bridges over the Yalu. Well, this country has been innocent, all right. But what of Ramparts' own belief that worries about the Cold War are "as germane as last year's desk calendar"?

If there is no more Cold War, why is the Soviet's Cold Fish Brezhnev so infernally interested in keeping the hot war in Vietnam going until such time as the U. S. betrays every promise it has made to the people of South Vietnam, the South Koreans, the Taiwanese, the Filipinos, the Thais, and the Australians? Why are the East Germans, who have never minded seating former members of the Nazi party in their parliament, carrying on so horrendously about the revival of nationalism in West Germany? Why are the Soviets telling us to get our fleet out of the Mediterranean at a time when "technicians" from Russia have been doing everything they can to help Nasser close the southern end of the Red Sea? Why does Moscow connive with Peking to arm the North Vietnamese to put invasion armies in the South when President Johnson and Secretary McNamara have forbidden Marshal Ky to press for a counter-invasion of the North?

I find many of the young in this country to be innocent in a way not comprehended by Ramparts. Some of them don't know the world is round. They scarcely realize that a man named Adolf Hitler ever lived. They haven't ever heard of the British military geographer, Sir Halford Mackinder, who tried to warn the West that if an enemy ever got full control of that part of the Eurasian "world island" running from Czechoslovakia to the Pacific, the people who live along the edges of Eurasia could be pushed into the sea. Working from Mackinder's insights, the German Karl Haushofer sold the idea of the consolidated central position to the Nazis. Fortunately, Hitler made the mistake of involving himself in a war on two fronts, so Haushofer's dream (which was Mackinder's nightmare) never came to pass.

The young in western Europe are just as innocent as the young in America. They don't see that if the U. S. folds in southeastern Asia, the Communists will then be absolutely free to turn their attention to West Berlin and West Germany. We aren't receiving any help from Western Europe in fighting its fight in southeast Asia, but the yappers who call Johnson a murderer and throw paint at Vice President Humphrey might at least shut up.

Our innocence is manifest in our high places. We are fighting a war in South Vietnam with a hopelessly divided command. Does General William C. Westmoreland have any control of the bombing of North Vietnamese targets from Guam and Thailand? Are the Marines at his beck and call? The worthy general, who is under orders, speaks of fighting a "war of attrition" and says it is the only alternative to a "war of annihilation." Surely he knows there is a third alternative, which is to grapple for the enemy's supply lines and so starve that enemy into submission. This is the classic Napoleonic strategy that MacArthur followed throughout his Pacific campaigns that ultimately isolated Japan and saved the day for Korea at Inchon. It could be repeated in the southeast Asian peninsula if only we treated that region as a whole. But we would have to close the port of Haiphong and really do something about the Ho Chi Minh trail in "neutral" Laos.

Our clergymen are innocent, too. They know a lot about the Bible as a sacred book. They haven't read the Bible as geopolitics. If they will go back to it, they will discover that the Israelites were always being ground between Babylonians and Assyrians on the north and other menacing people on the south. Whenever Hebrew statecraft wasn't up to winning protection from either the north or the south, captivity loomed.

Al Capp, the cartoonist who has a sense of realism, will know what I'm talking about. The Reverend William Sloane Coffin won't.

Viet War to Be Confusing Topic In 1968 Race

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—There isn't any doubt now, despite the Republican support for President Johnson on Vietnam, that the war will be a bleeding issue in the 1968 presidential race. Worse than that, it will be a sack of confusion.

The voters will be drenched in an argument over details and, since very few people are equipped with a chronology of events to help them analyze the arguments themselves, they will be looking at the speakers left, right, left, right, like watching a tennis match.

It comes down to this: while the Republicans back Johnson on fighting and trying to win the war, they are preparing to try to tear him to pieces for the way the war has been fought. But the Republicans will probably be arguing among themselves on what to find fault with or whether they should.

Last September, a few weeks before the 1966 congressional elections, the Republican leaders in the House issued a White Paper, an updated study of a similar White Paper of the year before, criticizing Johnson on Vietnam.

Now the Senate Republican Policy Committee has released a lengthy staff study pretty much paralleling the one out out by the House GOP leaders.

Nixon Statements

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, no longer a member of House or Senate but a very active prospect for the Republican nomination next year, recently gave a taste of things to come.

In March, while in Paris on a fact-finding world tour, he said the bulk of the American home front stands behind the Democratic administration's policies and actions in Vietnam.

In April in Saigon he said he did not think the war would be an issue in 1968 but that U.S. tactics in prosecuting the war—such as the bombing of North Vietnam and manpower—would be.

This gives Nixon—and it appears to be Republican policy as it shapes up—freedom to talk in two directions at once. He said he thought the Democrats would be more divided over the war than the Republicans.

Supports War Effort

Whether another likely Republican presidential prospect, Michigan's Gov. George Romney, will follow the Nixon technique isn't clear yet although, in his recent but carefully prepared statement supporting the war effort, Romney gave himself plenty of room if he thinks he needs it to criticize.

Monday in the South Romney spoke out against actions that might weaken the effort to end the war or help the Communists.

"I don't think," he said, "we should pursue a way that will weaken the President as long as he is President. And I don't think we should pursue a course that would help the enemy."

But he regretted American involvement in Vietnam, saying, "If we had followed the invisible hand of God in Vietnam we would not now be involved." He didn't explain that.

He left the door open for himself for almost any kind of criticism later by saying "I do not just agree with everything that is being done."

A—The first group to have the name was organized in Marseilles, France, in 1599.

Breitenbach Says ITC Guilty of Wanton Acts In Saugerties Battle

Henry P. Breitenbach, member of the Saugerties Central School Board, seeking reelection, took issue today against what he called "the unprovoked and wanton charges made by the Independent Taxpayers Committee, its alleged chairman, Sy Kruzansky, and their candidates Anders, Poythress and Wright." These charges were made against the incumbent candidates seeking reelection, Henry Breitenbach, Ann Karashay and Edwin Olson, against the entire Saugerties Board of Education, against the school administration and against the local PTA, he said.

As a former Saugerties High School graduate and having served on the School Board for the past six years, Breitenbach believes that the present school system has been carrying on the traditions of former administrations which produced many outstanding graduates of whom all Saugertiesians can be proud.

Breitenbach said that two unsigned "propaganda" flyers were issued by the ITC and distributed mainly in one section of the community. These flyers stated that the present Board is trying to train "us" (the parents) to accept split sessions as a way of life.

No Knowledge

"Obviously," continued Breitenbach, the ITC candidates are running for office with absolutely no knowledge that a proposed bond issue to alleviate this condition was defeated last fall. The foreseeable future has been adequately planned for, offering all of the taxpayers an economical answer to this problem.

In answer to the statement made by Mrs. Leland Van Tassel, wife of a Saugerties High School teacher, at the PTA meeting, regarding the availability of the Myers property on Barclay Heights, Breitenbach said, "The property in question, mentioned by her, is not for sale, according to information supplied by Jack O. Pakanen, Board President. Also, if the mythical site on the east side of Route 9W were available, what responsible person or parent could believe that crossing 9W in any manner other than by bus would not be dangerous?"

"Perhaps the Independent Taxpayers Committee and its candidates should familiarize themselves with Section 408, Paragraph 3 of the State Education Law, which defines the requirements of suitable sites for schools, which precludes building sites not having the State's minimum requirements," Breitenbach continued.

"My opponent, Anders, evidently agrees with the ITC that it takes three full years to propose and erect a school building. Anders, with his alleged knowledge of school matters, should know better than this," Breitenbach said.

Have Been Represented

"The ITC candidates seem to feel, as they state, that new industries in the area are not being properly represented on the Saugerties School Board. I am sure that most people will remember that in recent years new industries have been represented," he continued.

"The Saugerties School Board at the present time is represented by people in a wide variety of occupations and industries, including members associated with F. L. Russell Corp., Lehigh Cement Co., Martin Cantine Co., Shults Paint Co., Kingston Laboratory and also a professional engineer, a home-maker and mother, an insurance broker and one real estate broker. Contrary to the im-

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Two young men from nearby Hillcrest were killed Tuesday when the automobile in which they were riding struck a tree alongside a rural road west of this Southern Tier city.

They were Robert Hitt, 20, and John Swartwood, 17.

Air Pollution Theme of TB Dinner May 17

Air Pollution will be the theme and special program subject of the annual dinner of the Ulster County TB and Health Association at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday night, May 17.

County Treasurer, Fred H. Du Bois, annual dinner chairman said invitations from the Association's officers and Board of Directors are going out via the mails now, directed specifically to the many agencies, institutions, organizations, government figures, industries and businesses, Health Professionals, schools, TB-RD program personnel, and individuals who are directly influenced by and interested in the abatement of Air Pollution.

Du Bois noted that Saugerties Banker, John M. Robbins, Association president, will present an outstanding state-level speaker who will be concerned with air pollution as a community problem, the need for control and the required review and organization through which abatement and control of air pollution must be realized. "Our plans for this special and extremely vital Air Pollution-Clean Air program are nearing completion," Du Bois added, "and full details will be announced within the week. This special air pollution dinner event is being arranged as preliminary to the Association's full cooperative development of an Ulster County Action for Clean Air Committee, composed of representatives from all areas of government, industry, homeowner and agency interest."

"We urge all persons and organizations who are interested in the Air Pollution program to contact E. Robert Johnson, TB-RD Association Executive Director, for further details or comments," Du Bois concluded. "This is an extremely important, all inclusive health subject that must have the interest and concern of every one of us who lives in the Ulster County area."

Antique Plane Makes History

Martin Horan of Horan Transportation, operating out of New York City, and William Rhode of New Jersey, have returned from re-creating the first commercial airmail flight from Pittsburgh to Cleveland via Youngstown, O.

The flight was made with the original plane, a WACO Model 9, and marked the 40th anniversary of the plane.

They flew over 2,000 miles in the three seater, which has a cruising speed of 80 mph and a range of 400 miles, and is reported that they carried mail on the trip.

The airplane, based at the Old Rhinebeck Aerodrome, was the first airplane owned by Clifford Ball who is now president of an antique aircraft association. It was purchased as a collector's item by Pennsylvania Airlines which was eventually bought by Capitol Airlines which, as the pressures on the modern airline industry would have it, is now owned by United Airlines.

The plane, called "Miss Pittsburgh," returned from Pittsburgh to Rhinebeck Monday.

Area Knights, Masons Plan Joint Meeting

Another milestone in the ecumenical movement will be achieved Saturday night when the first annual Knights and Masons joint brotherhood dinner will be held at the Bear Mountain Inn.

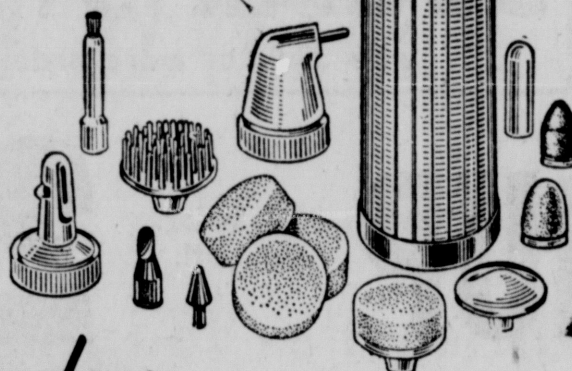

Twenty masonic lodges from Rockland and Orange Counties and 33 Knights of Columbus councils from the Hudson Valley chapter, which covers a five-county area, will participate in the dinner-dance. The Hudson Valley chapter includes Rockland, Orange, Ulster, Dutchess and Sullivan Counties.

The guest speakers at the dinner will be James E. Foley, New York State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus, and Harry Ostrov, past grand master of the New York State Grand Lodge.

"burgh," returned from Pittsburgh to Rhinebeck Monday.

Another Arrest In Buffalo's Narcotics Case

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Five members in the family of a noted literary critic and author face narcotics charges stemming from a raid last Friday night at the writer's home.

The most recent arrest came Tuesday when Michael Fiedler, 19, the son of author Dr. Leslie A. Fiedler, 50, was charged with possession of marijuana. The elder Fiedler also is an English professor at the State University of Buffalo.

Present at Raid

Michael A. Amico, assistant chief of detectives in charge of the narcotics bureau, said the teen-ager was present during the raid but was not taken into custody at that time. A reason for the decision was not given.

The younger Fiedler was arraigned Tuesday before Judge Frank J. Luchowski of City Court and pleaded innocent to the charge. He was freed on $500 bail to await trial on June 5.

Arrested during the raid were Fiedler, his wife, Margaret, 48, another son, Kurt J., 26, his wife, Emilie, 26, and Dennis Francisco and William C. Haslev, both 17 and of Buffalo.

The older Fiedler couple was charged with maintaining premises where narcotics are used, a misdemeanor.

The other four were accused of possessing marijuana, also a misdemeanor. In addition, Kurt Fiedler was charged with selling narcotics, a felony.

June 5 Date Set

All, except Kurt Fiedler, also were scheduled to stand trial on June 5.

Kurt faces a preliminary hearing today on the selling charge.

Amico said a second person was arrested Tuesday as a result of the Fiedler investigation. He was Michael Levinson, 25, of Buffalo, who was accused of selling marijuana to a 16-year-old girl at his apartment last April 19.

'Buy Now,' Is Valley Home Builders Advice

"The word is go," said Jerome Rieger as he described the initial phase of the Buy Now program at Tuesday night's meeting of the board of directors of the Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley.

Rieger, chairman of the Buy Now program, a community effort joining many concerns in an effort to stimulate the housing market, pointed out the consumer's advantage in buying now—before late 1967 price increases.

According to the Buy Now committee chairman, a full advertising and publicity schedule is underway. The Buy Now program plans to use extensive newspaper, radio and outdoor advertising to tell its story to the consumer.

"As an added inducement," said Rieger, "many concerns will feature monthly contests as a method to build traffic. The contest winners' names and pictures will be featured in Buy Now advertising. Participating businesses will display the Buy Now emblem."

Buffalo Bank Holdup

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—"I've got a gun. Give me all the money," were the words a bank teller said were used to rob her of $4,527.

Mrs. Nina Powell, 49, a teller at the Central Park branch of the Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co., said she handed the gunman the money, all in bills, and he fled. The soft-spoken handit escaped in an automobile driven by an accomplice.

The robbery Tuesday was the ninth bank holdup in the Buffalo area since Dec. 9. It was the fourth at an M & T branch in that time.

Convictions came in three of the nine holdups with Harold J. Mims, 23, of Buffalo, pleading guilty to two of them. He faces a possible 30-year prison sentence.

Two men and a young woman were convicted of the third robbery and sentenced to prison.

In Tuesday's holdup, the gunman first asked for change of a $10 bill before he pointed a "revolver at Mrs. Powell, a bank spokeswoman said. A man waiting in line behind the bandit was unaware of the holdup, as were bank employees, the spokeswoman added.

SLP Executives Met Saturday

The coming weekend will be a big one for the Socialist Labor Party as the regular annual session of the National Executive Committee, Socialist Labor Party, will convene Saturday, May 6, at 11 a. m. in the Henry Hudson Hotel, 353 West 57th Street, New York City.

Arnold Petersen, National Secretary of the SLP, will give a detailed report to the national executive committee of work accomplished nationally by the party in 1966. Plans will be made for the Socialist Labor Party Presidential campaign next year.

On Saturday night, at the same hotel, a banquet will be held in honor of the National Executive Committee. Henning Blomen of Massachusetts, vice-presidential candidate of the SLP in 1964, will serve as master of ceremonies. Nathan Karp of New Jersey, member of the SLP National Staff, will deliver the principle address.

The banquet attracts members of the SLP from many areas, including Nathan Pressman of Ellenville.

Amazed by Award

HYDERABAD, India (AP)—Prof. David B. Davis says he is "astonished and amazed" to have received the Pulitzer Prize for general non-fiction.

Davis, a professor of history at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., learned Tuesday that he had received the award for his book, "The Problem of Slavery in Western Culture."

"I am astonished and overwhelmed, and of course honored," Davis said.

Davis arrived here Monday to begin a summer term as visiting professor at Osmania University.

The airport for the Scottish island of Barra, in the Outer Hebrides, consists of a beach of cockleshells; planes land at low tide.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A stunned California Legislature surveyed its security precautions today while Negroes who burst into the Capitol bearing a variety of loaded guns at noontime Tuesday were summoned to court.

Twenty-six youths aged 17 to 25 were arrested by city police with drawn revolvers and hauled to the police station in a "naddy wagon" shortly after they left the Capitol at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

They were accused of possessing two illegal sawed-off shotguns, brandishing weapons in a threatening manner, disrupting the Legislature in session and carrying a fully loaded weapon in a car.

At the Capitol today, support mounted among amazed and disgruntled lawmakers for tightening security and imposing more severe penalties on those who disrupt an Assembly or Senate session.

It was a noon-hour session of the assembly that a dozen of the armed youths — members of the "Black Panther Party" — succeeded in penetrating briefly before they were ushered out and several of the loaded rifles, pistols and shotguns taken away by two state policemen in a mild struggle.

No guns were fired at any time, and the armed men took care while in the Capitol not to threaten anyone with the guns. They remained silent except for a spokesman, Bobby Seal, 25, of Oakland. He said they appeared to defend their constitutional right to bear arms, criticized "racist Oakland police" and opposed a bill outlawing the carrying of loaded weapons in public.

Amazement to Anger

No one could remember anything like it happening before.

Reaction ranged from simple amazement to anger. A Democratic Negro assemblyman from the Watts district of Los Angeles, Bill Greene — considered a militant advocate of Negro rights — commented: "This action was not militant, it was senseless. No person black or white can condone this action."

Jim Roonev, one of three sergeants-at-arms manning the swinging gates that block off the Assembly chamber door 50 feet away, said that suddenly "a wave of them just rushed in and shoved us out of the way."

He was knocked into a chair by someone in the traveling mob of about 50 Black Panther members, reporters and television cameramen.

The man presiding when the armed men burst into the rear of the chamber, Speaker Pro Tem Carlos Bee, D-Havard, remarked later: "The Legislature is certainly upset by the whole episode. People must be identified and have passes to come onto the floor. Any citizen can get a pass and there is no reason for anyone to push through in this manner."

Shocked Beyond Belief

Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, author of the gun control bill the group protested, said he was "shocked beyond belief. It's a direct attempt to coerce me. This whole thing is an affront to the people."

When he testified for the bill Tuesday afternoon, Mulford referred to the "first time in California history an armed band forced their way through the gates and into the Assembly chamber."

He reminded assemblymen of the time in 1954 that Puerto Rican nationalists fired guns from the gallery into the House of Representatives chamber in Washington, D. C., wounding five congressmen.

The bill was taken under submission, Mulford said he would seek to include a provision to make it a felony to disrupt a legislative house in session.

Even Gov. Ronald Reagan was involved in the incident, and it caused some worried moments for his aides, who already afford him more protection than previous governors.

Reagan was scheduled to lunch on the west Capitol lawn with and eighth-grade social studies class from Pleasant Hill. When word of the armed men spread through the startled Capitol, Reagan was kept in his office. He finally left by a side door and appeared on the upper Capitol steps just as the Negroes were leaving from the lower steps. They did not seem to be aware of his presence.

Asked for his reaction, the governor commented that "Americans don't go around carrying guns with the idea they're using them to influence other Americans. There's no reason why on the street today a citizen should be carrying loaded weapons."

He agreed, however, with the group's contention they have the right to bear arms. At present there is no law in California against possessing a loaded legal gun as long as it isn't concealed.

Because of the confusion and presence of the armed men, the picnic was moved into the governor's newly redecorated office and the youngsters sat on the carpet munching fried chicken.

Laborer Killed

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A 31-year-old laborer was killed Tuesday in an explosion and fire at the Crucible Steel Co. plant here.

He was Huey C. Tarbell of Syracuse, an employee of the Bielec Wrecking Co.

Police said Tarbell and a co-worker were dismantling a furnace at the steel plant when one of the men apparently cut through a gas line, causing the explosion.

Fire Damages House in Olive

Olive Fire Department responded to a fire early Tuesday which seriously damaged a house in Samsonville. In another incident a more serious fire was averted when valves were shut off on a leaking propane gas truck.

An alert driver of a 900-gallon propane gas truck shut off valves on his damaged truck Monday, shortly before noon and thereby halted the danger of a possible serious fire.

Heard Odd Noise

The driver, Granville Miller, was operating his vehicle on Rt. 28A near Ashokan Dam when he heard a strange noise. Investigating, he found his truck's driveline had been damaged and pipes leading to the bulk tank had been broken. He immediately shut off the lines at great risk to his own life as the liquid gas spilled on the highway. Had a spark occurred there could have been a serious explosion.

Firemen from the Olive Fire Department responded and Chief Alfred Fox reported the quick work by Miller in shutting off the valves had practically stopped the flow of gas. At about 2 a. m. Tuesday members of the Olive Fire Department were called to a small house owned by Alfred Barringer on Samsonville Road near the Samsonville Bridge. The house was enveloped in flames. At first it was reported George Chambers, who resided alone, might have been trapped in the fire. An investigation later located him asleep on a cot in the cellar of the Jesse Shurter home in Samsonville by whom Chambers was employed.

Sheriff Notified — The sheriff's office was notified by Deputy Sheriff Charles Hesley that someone might have perished in the fire. Deputy Sheriffs Jerry Vorisek and Christian Ecker were dispatched. It was not until 3:30 a. m. after the fire was out and the debris worked over that Chambers was located.

Olive Fire Company No. 4, Samsonville, responded along with two pieces of apparatus from Olivebridge and one from West Shokan to the fire. Boiceville stood by. Chief Fox reported about 40 firemen were at the scene and approximately 1,200 feet of hose was laid.

Town of Olive firemen also responded to a woods fire off Rt. 28 in the Shokan area Monday afternoon. Forest rangers were also at the scene. The fire was brought under control after about two hours work.

Buffalo Studies Sale Tax

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The adoption of a one per cent county sales tax is the only way the city can give its employees, including protesting firemen, the pay raises they seek, Mayor Frank A. Sedita contends.

His comments came Tuesday during a meeting of the city's leading bankers, businessmen and civic leaders.

Sedita called the conference to seek a solution to the crisis of pay hikes for city employees, especially for the firemen who have threatened a walkout unless they obtain their proposed $2,000-a-year raise.

John M. Galvin, president of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce, suggested the county tax as a temporary measure until the city is provided with additional sources of raising revenue. The Jaycees later gave their support to the proposed tax.

Sedita termed the city employees' demands for pay hikes "an extremely critical situation" and said the tax was the only way out.

Eric County residents now pay a combined county and state sales tax of four per cent. A one per cent city sales tax proposal was defeated in a referendum last March 28.

Galvin estimated the additional tax would result in an increase of $6 million to $7 million, one half of which would be given to the city.

The 1,250 firemen continued their picketing of City Hall and their work slowdown Tuesday in an effort to obtain pay increases. Their maximum annual salary is $6,500.

Sedita has offered the firemen an annual increase of $468, saying that is all the city can raise.

Phoenicia

Summer Plans

PHOENICIA—Henry Boucher has been named director of the Town of Shandaken summer recreation program.

Assisting in the seven week summer program for area youth will be Miss Gertrude Spolaric and LeRoy Winchell as counselors.

At a recent meeting of the youth recreation commission of the township, plans to use the Sky Rise Development facilities were discussed with Bruce Winchell, a partner in the development. Winchell indicated the area would be ready by the first of July. He said the commission could use the pool each morning of the week exclusively. Further study of the proposal is underway.

Other activities will be held at the Phoenicia School grounds and Shandaken Firehall if both are available. Program will start July 5 and continue through Aug. 18 with Aug. 21 and 22 reserved for completing inventory and reports.

Purchasing of equipment will be from local merchants if prices are comparable. Large purchases will be made through the state contract purchasing.

P-TA Names Officers

Mrs. John Rossitz was elected president of the Phoenicia Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association at a recent meeting. Others elected were:

The Mmes. Paul Herdman, first vice president; Augustus Simpson, second vice president; Joseph Camerano, recording secretary; Fred Klutch, corresponding secretary; Arthur Smith, treasurer; Fred Maxwell, historian and Renwick Dibble, parliamentarian.

The slate was presented by Mrs. Fred Klutch.

Mrs. Leonard Ford was recipient of the Jenkins Memorial Award. Presentation was made by Mrs. Robert A. Maroney.

The P-TA voted to sponsor a teacher recognition dinner at the Cobblestone Restaurant May 15.

Mrs. Larry Karas and a group of fifth and sixth graders presented a program on physical fitness.

Installing officer was Mrs. Howard Hanks, assistant director to Northern Ulster for the Taconic District of the New York State Congress of P-TA and a member of the Ontario Board of Education.

Shandaken GOP

Ernest Gardner of Olive, one of the Republican candidates for county legislator of District 11 was introduced at the April meeting of the Town of Shandaken GOP Club.

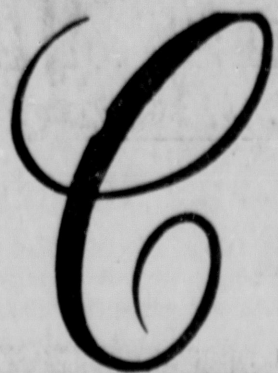

The Republican organization at its business session voted to donate $25 to the Ontario Little League of Phoenicia. Andrew Neilson and Anthony Indicidulia spoke on the aims of the new league and the necessity of local support from organizations and parents.

Approximately 25 members attended the meeting which was held at the Town Hall in Allaben with Mrs. Dawn Graham, president, presiding.

May 6 Date Set

The seventh annual dinner dance sponsored by the Town of Shandaken Cancer Committee will be held Saturday, May 6 at the Hotel Phoenicia, starting 5 p. m.

Mrs. William McGrath, chairman of the town cancer crusade, extends an invitation to the public to attend the gala event which yearly raises funds for the campaign. The dinner will be donated by the hotel proprietors and music for dancing will be through the courtesy of Al Pettinato.

Talks End Milk Strike

ALBANY (AP) — Marathon negotiations ended a strike by Teamsters Union members against five retail dairy firms early today, only 4½ hours after it had begun.

State mediator Irving Shapiro announced shortly after 4:30 a.m. that Local 787 of the Teamsters Union and the companies had agreed on terms for a two-year contract.

He said pickets would be withdrawn immediately and every effort made to get all 300 drivers and inside employees back on the job as soon as possible.

The firms are the Borden Co., Sealtest Dairy Products, Central Dairy and Elm Dairies. The walkout had been called Tuesday night and picket lines were set up at midnight.

The accord provides for an increase in pay for all workers and defers for six months action on a proposed change in the milk-delivery schedule that could have caused a layoff of almost 30 per cent of them.

The delivery-schedule change kept the short-tempered leaders at odds throughout the bargaining session. Negotiations began 10 days ago and Shapiro called both sides to his office again at 11 p.m. Tuesday night, three after Edward Contento, business agent for the local, had announced the walkout.

Under the proposal, the number of home deliveries for some customers would have been reduced, generally from every two days to every third day.

The number of deliveries also would have been reduced as each of the remaining drivers added customers to his route.

The companies said the reduction in the number of drivers was needed to cut operating expenses and hold down prices for customers on home-delivery routes.

A similar plan has been proposed for the Buffalo area but has not gone into effect. Union leaders here said they were reluctant to try the plan until its impact had been determined elsewhere.

The union local had agreed Tuesday night to sign a contract with two other dairies — Norman's Kill and Glendale — along the same lines as that arrived at later with the other five.

Over-all, the seven firms supply about 30,000 homes and stores. Under the old contract, which expired Monday, the base pay for the employees was $110 to $125.

Cites Law Respect

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The will to commit crime cannot long be suppressed by fear, says Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

"It can be permanently conquered only by creating in the hearts of our people a respect for the rights of others, which is to say — a respect for the law," Clark said in a Law Day speech. "We must begin with our youth. They are our future, our most precious resource and our most lawless citizens."

Hints from Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Folks:

While we're having that cup of coffee today, I'm going to tell you how to save a few pennies, as well as some energy and time.

Everyone knows how hard it is to use ALL of a bottle of ketchup, chili sauce, cocktail sauce, or cream dressings. The main problem is that you can't scrape into those narrow-necked bottles and get all of the good stuff out.

So try this:

When you get down near the bottom of the bottle and have a little bit left in it, shake the bottle real hard and turn it upside down, being sure the cap is on tight.

If you have a bottle that won't stand on the cap (I found one cocktail sauce that wouldn't), put it in a jar or jelly glass to keep it from falling and leave it overnight. In the morning, all the remaining goody part will have settled in the neck of the bottle. Then all you have to do is turn the bottle sideways, unscrew the cap quickly and the stuff that has accumulated near the bottle cap will pour out easily.

This will leave you with a clean bottle and you get to use ALL of that wonderful sauce.

If the bottle has a wide neck, such as chili sauce, put the almost empty bottle upside down on the new bottle and in no time at all it'll be drained clean.

Dear Heloise:

My job involves a lot of traveling and attending conventions and conferences.

By making a daily clothes schedule of activities, I find it helps me to arrive with proper clothing for each day's events.

I call this my "clothes menu" and I keep it pinned to the inside top of my suitcase. Each morning I just glance at it to see what I'm to wear.

It saves time in packing, avoids overpacking or underpacking and speeds my dressing.

Letter of Thought

Dear Heloise:

The best way to ease your fears, tears and troubles is to interest yourself in others.

A. M.

How true, how true!

If we would all take the time to glance around, we would probably see someone else a lot worse off than we are.

All of God's children have troubles.

Dear Heloise:

My big problem until recently was my ironing board.

The legs of the ironing board always spread apart whenever I put it in my hallway closet, which made opening that closet dangerous. The ironing board poked our eyes, bumped our heads and even fell on us at times.

After many bruises, I solved this problem by putting a belt around one leg and the narrow part of the ironing board. Then I tightened up on my belt.

Now when we open the hall closet we don't have to wrestle that old ironing board every time.

A Friend

Dear Heloise:

If at the end of a day your glassy eyes and pained expression are telling the world that

Slate Survey Of Local Teens May 1-June 15

Ulster County is one of 72 cities, counties, towns and villages across the United States which have been included in the sample for a National Survey of Youth to be conducted by the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research.

The study will be made by a group of young people who will be in this locality some time between May 1 and June 15 when the study will be concluded.

Arrangements for housing the group while in Ulster County has been made by Mrs. Walter Herring, who in the past had conducted research programs for the University of Michigan.

13-16 Age Group

This survey of a representative sample of American teenagers will include boys and girls aged 13 to 16 in each of the survey sites. Some 1,200 to 1,500 teenagers will make up a cross-section of the entire age group.

Interviews will be conducted by 40 specially trained University of Michigan upperclassmen or graduate students who will travel the length and breadth of the U.S. to talk to adolescents about their hopes and fears, their problems and their joys, the things they do that are a credit to their communities and the things that might

Leaves $1,074,551

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A net estate of $1,074,551 has been left by Joseph Lansky, a retired men's sportswear manufacturer, according to a state tax appraisal.

The appraisal, filed Tuesday in Erie County Surrogate Court, revealed specific bequests totaling $160,000. Of this figure, $21,000 was left to 11 Jewish educational and philanthropic institutions.

The residual of the estate, after special bequests, was left in equal shares to three sisters and four brothers.

Lansky died Feb. 14, 1965 in Tucson, Ariz.

The appraisal indicated a federal estate tax of $280,000 and a state tax of $57,000.

Six Diamond Tricks Lost

By Oswald & James Jacoby Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We don't intend to go into all the ramifications and variations that might have taken place in the bidding and play of today's est defensive players of all time. The spade play was unusual enough to indicate to Stone that declarer wanted someone to lead a diamond and Stone was not about to do that. Instead he led a club right into dummy. West was careful to play the jack and hang onto the three spot as a possible out card later, because West also realized what declarer's problem was.

Another spade was led from dummy and Stone was in again. This time he played his eight of hearts. South played low as did West and dummy's jack won the trick. Back came a heart and East's ten and declarer's king fell to West's ace. West put his partner back in with the queen of hearts and Stone continued to harass declarer by leading the ace and queen of spades.

Dummy's king took the queen. This left dummy with the four of spades. Declarer called "Low spade."

Stone said "Lower spade," and produced the deuce. By this time West had managed to get rid of all his four diamonds and was down to the nine-three of clubs and the 13th heart. The best declarer could do was to take dummy's ten of clubs and give West the last two tricks. The whole diamond suit had been shut out!

hand. We aren't writing a book — merely an article.

After this bidding West opened the queen of clubs against South's three no-trump contract and South won in dummy and led a low spade. Tobias Stone who sat East is one of the great-

Thruway 'Take' Up

Buffalo Area GIs Killed In Viet Action

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Revenue for the State Thruway during the first quarter of this year was 9.1 per cent higher than the corresponding period last year.

A spokesman for the Thruway Authority reported Tuesday that revenue for the 1967 quarter totaled $15,931,685 from tolls, and income from concessions and investments.

During the January through March period in 1966, income totaled $14,599,650.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 3, the 123rd day of 1967. There are 242 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1864, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant led his troops across the Rapidan River against Confederate forces led by Gen. Robert E. Lee.

On this date: In 1494, Christopher Columbus discovered the island of Jamaica.

In 1802, Washington, D.C., was incorporated.

In 1892, Cecil Rhodes became premier of the Cape Colony, South Africa.

In 1937, Margaret Mitchell won a Pulitzer Prize for her novel "Gone with the Wind."

In 1943, Madame Chiang Kai-shek of China was a guest at the White House.

In 1944, synthetic guanine was produced in the laboratories of Harvard University.

Ten years ago—Fighting came to an end between Honduras and Nicaragua pending investigation of an oil lands dispute by the Organization of American States.

Five years ago—Two commuter trains and a freight train were involved in a wreck in Tokyo, killing 163 persons and injuring nearly 400.

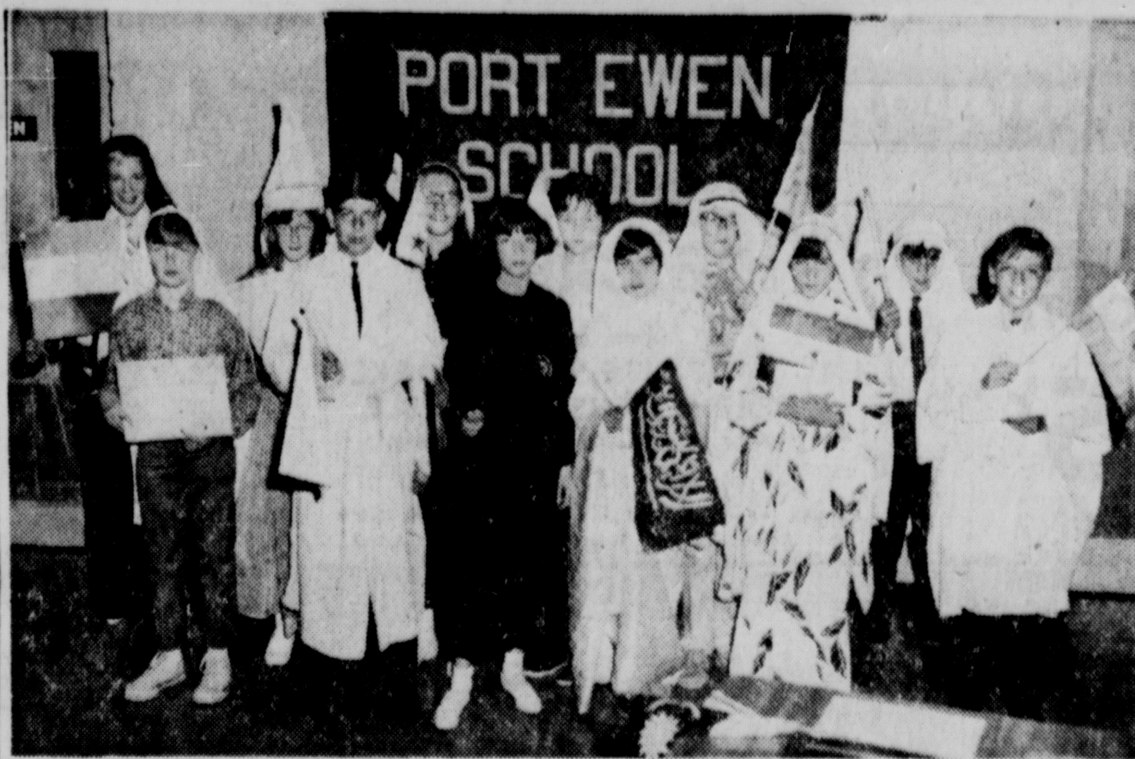

One year ago—The wife of Gov. George Wallace of Alabama won the Democratic nomination to succeed her husband.

Says Oil Doesn't Add to Pollution

Floyd Schneider, president of the Hudson Valley Oil Heat Council, today defended the council's product saying, "The heating oils used to heat more than 10,000 homes are in no way involved in the community's air pollution problems."

Schneider said the most common type of oil, No. 2 heating oil, has such a low content of sulphur that it is inconceivable that it can have any significant effect on air contamination.

He blamed other sources for the problems such as exhaust from automobiles and trucks. He also said that nature itself is a major contributor to air pollution with such things as pollen, dust and fungi.

U.N. DAY IN PORT EWEN—Sixth grade students of the Port Ewen School presented a General Assembly of the United Nations Thursday to the sixth grade students of John F. Kennedy School. ## New Paltz News

Plan Art Show

The annual Spring Art Show of the New Paltz Art Association will be held May 7-11 at the Gallery of the College Fine Arts Building.

Myra Gerald, president of the Association, extends a cordial invitation to all to attend the opening reception and tea Sunday, May 7, from 2-5 p. m. at the Gallery Lounge, to meet the members of the Association and to view their most recent work.

The exhibit includes a wide variety of media and techniques. Work in both abstract and representational approaches to a wide range of subject matter are interesting contrast in the exhibit.

Included in the exhibits are works by the course instructor, Alexander Martin, of the college faculty as well as by former Art Association instructors.

The exhibit will continue daily thereafter through Thursday, May 11, from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Closing 5 p. m. Thursday.

Couples Club Meets

The couples Club of the New Paltz Reformed Church met for the last time recently for the season. Fifty-two members attended the supper meeting. Queen Jane Hamilton and King Dominic Willschlegler were selected by an elimination quiz. They were then crowned by Jean Langwick who had made original head pieces.

The Jack Lockkedges greeted guests.

The Couples Club will resume meetings in October.

McKelvey Is Honored

Harry E. McKelvey of 30 Duane Road, New Paltz, was honored April 19 by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation on the occasion of his 45th anniversary of service with the utility. McKelvey, manager of the company's Office Services Division, was cited for his long career and presented with a Service Award by retired Board Chairman, Ernest R. Acker during a meeting at the general office in Poughkeepsie.

Lutheran School Plans Art Show

An art fair will be held at Immanuel Lutheran School, 22 Livingston Street, Sunday, May 7.

The public may attend the exhibit which will include works by pupils of the local school and Our Saviour's Lutheran School, Albany.

Visitors may come and go as they please any time between 3 and 5 p. m. The classrooms and other facilities will also be available for inspection.

Art work shown will illustrate various techniques, including sculpture, sketching, symbolic banners done with stitchery, water colors, pastels, tempera, metal working, and many others.

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Fidel Castro's followers are trying to make good his threat of new Vietnam's in Latin America by means of a pocket-sized guerrilla war in potentially rich and economically rocky Colombia.

Less Than 500

By itself, this movement would mean little politically. It is made up of two groups, divided at the moment, operating in separate areas of the country. In all, the guerrillas may total fewer than 500 armed men.

The danger is that it will further complicate Colombia's economic problems — already grave — and lead to a chaotic political situation. Guerrillas are operating in areas dangerously close to the vital roads and railways upon which the economy depends.

Colombia is struggling with a severe economic recession which has caused unemployment to rise sharply in both urban and rural areas. Colombians see a danger that this will drive segments of the peasantry into the arms of the guerrillas.

Responsible Colombians say the remedy must be a combination of action by the military plus determined efforts on the economic front to increase employment and raise confidence in the government of President Carlos Lleras Restrepo.

Situation Grave

These sources see the situation as increasingly grave in the heartland areas of Tolima and

Huila provinces, where peasant support for the guerrillas is reported. This guerrilla band is made up of the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia — FARC headed by Manuel Marulanda a member of the Colombia Communist party Central Committee who goes by the name of "Tiro-Fijo" — Sure Fabi Vasquez, a young Castroite shot. It has probably, at the fire-eater who probably has no

Gives Up Auto License, Never Had Accident

A Glenford senior citizen has turned in her driver's license after 45 years of accident-free driving. Mrs. John Baker, 84, told The Freeman that there were "too many crazy drivers" on the roads and she wanted to turn in her license before she had an accident.

Apparently Mrs. Baker's age had nothing to do with her decision to give up driving. She just felt the roads weren't safe enough anymore.

Mrs. Baker was driving a 1948 Ford when she turned in her license. She was apparently as careful with the maintenance of her car as she was with her driving. She said she had been offered $400 for the 19-year old vehicle.

Asked how she was going to get around now that she was without a car Mrs. Baker told a Freeman reporter, "I guess I'll just have to hitch rides here and there. If you see me walking down the road, I'd appreciate a lift."

MRS. JOHN BAKER

Mrs. Baker was asked if she had any driving tips for today's younger drivers. "Be careful," she said.

Ill Equipped

Colombian officials say they are inadequately equipped to fight the guerrillas effectively. Among other things, they want more mobility for their armed forces. This means helicopters.

The United States has given top priority to Vietnam with regard to helicopters, but it is understood that some troop transport choppers are due soon in Colombia under a U.S. military aid grant. The United States is also helping train the Colombian armed forces in anti-guerrilla tactics.

Except for the tense economic situation in Colombia, competent sources say, the guerrillas would not present too much of a worry.

The government is regularly elected, and the current president is politically stronger today than he was when he took office last August. While some peasants now are helping the guerrillas, it is far from mass support.

The government has failed all the Communist leaders it could find, and is ruling now under a modified form of martial law which the administration describes as "martial legality."

Railroad Report:

Can't Estimate Damage From City Inferno

Officials of the West Shore Division, New York Central Railroad, today said they were unable, at this point, to give a rough estimate of the extent of loss from the Monday fire which badly damaged the local freight terminal.

They were also unable to say whether another long freight shed will be built on the present site to continue handling local freight or whether a nearby freight station will be used in the future.

Heavy Loss of Stock

Monday night's fire which resulted in a heavy loss of stock also involved box cars and freight trailers plus quarters used by Roe Movers, of Kingston, and the Feuer Moving & Storage Inc., of Yonkers. Firemen were still on watch today for any rekindling.

Among losses reported by Feuer was furniture owned by 10 families, 25,000 cases of aluminum products, machinery and two tractors. Roe Movers reported considerably less damage, indicated that storage was light and noted that workmen were able to move several trailers to safety.

Railroad officials have no report, to date, as to the extent of freight involved in the fire. Some was consigned to other railroads, and many of the cars on the siding near the freight house at the time of the fire, including the four involved, were owned by different railroads.

Even though no official figures are available, it has been estimated that loss when estimated will be well into six figures.

Firemen and others involved with the fire have noted that the local Salvation Army Corps was active at the scene. Beginning at 11 p. m. members of the corps were there with coffee and doughnuts. They stayed until 2 a. m. went to quarters for a new supply of refreshments, and were back at the scene 4 a. m.

Headed by Brigadier and Mrs. Jacob Hohn, members of the local corps included Mrs. Lillian Halstead, Francis Jackson, Clay Stuckies and Mr. and Mrs. James Rockwell.

Fire Chief James M. Brett today issued the following statement concerning a report that he was critical of the structural hazards of the long fire shed:

"I did not make the statement that the building was in violation of the city's building code. I did make the statement that the building was built in violation of the city's building laws."

"I would also take this opportunity to correct any misinformation that the city has been without a building code until recent years. The city has never been without a building code since 1909."

Parkers Pay $2,813

City Treasurer Orrie R. Riehl today reported an April parking meter take of $2,813.50. This was $81.74 under the March total and was $882.70 less than the April, 1966 total. The city has lost considerably in meter money since last year because of the removal of meters in downtown areas.

Mail Rates Increase

An increase in international surface and airmail rates went into effect Monday, May 1, Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk announced today.

The new international rates, he said, will not apply to mailings for members of the Armed Forces overseas. Domestic postage rates are applicable to mail addressed through APO's and FPO's.

The rate increases for both surface and airmail—averaging 13 per cent—were first proposed on Jan. 14 and publicly confirmed March 1. The Department explained at that time that they were needed to help offset a deficit of about $16 million in international mail operations.

Specific information on the new international rates was obtained from the service window at the post office, Postmaster Newkirk said. This was the first general increase in international rates since July, 1961.

The increases: Airmail letters to Central American and Caribbean area from 13c a half ounce to $15. Airmail to the rest of the Western Hemisphere remains 15c a half ounce, except for Canada and Mexico.

Airmail to Europe and Mediterranean Africa from 15c a half ounce to 20c. Airmail letter rates to the rest of the world remain unchanged at 25c a half ounce.

Aerogrammes and air post cards increased 2c each from 11c to 13c.

Items sent by air, other than letters and parcels, such as small packages, books, periodicals and other printed matter increased 10c per piece to all countries except Canada. Most letters going by surface transportation to all nations (excluding Canada and Mexico) increased from 11c to 13c. Post Cards raised from 7c to 8c.

Most printed matter, including publications, increased one cent a piece. For second class publications to Canada only, the one cent increase will be deferred for six months to become effective Nov. 1, 1967.

Also, the present bundling rate which permits postage to be computed on the bulk weight of packages of publications addressed to Canadian post offices will remain in effect until Nov. 1, 1968, at which time it will be discontinued.

Surface parcel post rates to all nations increased 20c a parcel, an average of 7 per cent. Postage rates for surface first class letters and air letters and surface third class type printed matter to Canada and Mexico correspond to U.S. domestic rates, which are set by the Congress, and are not being changed at this time," Postmaster Newkirk said.

Quits Catskill Post

John Panek, who has served as the principal of Catskill High School since 1961, has resigned to become principal of Cohoes High School. Prior to going to Catskill, Panek served as supervising principal at Tivoli. He had previously served as physical education teacher, football coach and supervising principal at Mount Morris.

Adjourn 28 Paltz Cases Till 27th

Twenty-eight of the demonstrators who were arrested April 25 at State University College in New Paltz where they staged a protest to Marine and Navy recruiters appearing at the college, had their cases adjourned Tuesday until 11 a. m. May 27.

Another of the demonstrators, Mark B. Laboing, who was represented by Attorney Charles Saccamano, had his case adjourned to May 19.

Bail in all cases was continued.

The New York firm of Lynn, Spitz and Condon appeared for the 28.

The matter had been set down for Tuesday before Justice Rexford Schneider. Town of New Paltz. All have been released on $100 bail each after arrest by Sheriff William B. Martin's men. The charge was disorderly conduct.

Arrest came after the demonstrators had obstructed access to the service recruiting tables in the Student Union building on campus. All but two of the demonstrators were New Paltz College students. One was a former student and one was from Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson.

Set Dutch Day Theme for 1967 Library 'Fair'

The Stone Ridge Library Fair will be held this year on Saturday, June 24. In preparation for this popular event, the heads of various booth committees met with Mrs. Thomas Davenport, fair chairman, last Thursday to finalize plans.

Among the exciting features of the fair this year will be a Dutch Day theme and several new booths including imported kites, handmade children's clothes, and kitchen utensils.

The Fair Committee would like to remind everyone that donations may be left at the Stone Ridge Library. Those who will be able to contribute time, either in preparing the fair or on Fair Day, are asked to leave word with the Stone Ridge librarians.

Settle Chicago Milk Tieup

CHICAGO (AP) — Settlement of a combination strike-lockout by drivers and dairy operators that halted milk deliveries in the Chicago area was announced today.

The agreement to end the milk crisis was reached at 2 a. m. after six hours of negotiations in the office of Mayor Richard Daley who had summoned union and dairy representatives in an urgent attempt to settle the dispute.

Spokesmen for each side said milk deliveries would be resumed today to homes and stores.

The new one-year agreement provides for a $5-a-week across-the-board increase in wages and welfare benefits. Other issues, including dairy operators' proposals to reduce the work week from six to five days and home deliveries from three to two days a week remain to be worked out.

Spokesmen said any issues unresolved in continuing negotiations would be submitted to arbitration.

in and under the light of flares. U.S. Air Force pilots and artillery pounded the Communist positions. One battalion of American infantrymen set up blocking positions while another squeezed the enemy into the vise.

The ground troops reported light to moderate contact this morning, but by noon the Communists broke off the battle after heavy artillery barrages and air strikes on their positions, an American spokesman said.

The spokesman said the infantrymen captured 23 weapons.

Second in 24 Hours

It was the second battle in 24 hours for units of the 9th Division. More than 100 Communists attacked a company of the 3rd Brigade 19 miles southwest of Saigon while the Americans were in defensive positions shortly after midnight Monday.

Joins Job Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Emily C. Gorman, once head of the Women's Army Corps, has joined the Job Corps. She will serve as deputy to its director of plans and programs. A native of Pulaski, N.Y., she joined the WACs in 1942 and became corps director 20 years later.

State Troopers To Attend Class For Instructors

Eight State Troopers from this area are among 51 members of the State Police selected to attend one of two instructor development courses during the next two weeks.

Attending from the Troop C area will be men from the following stations: Senior Investigator Richard J. Gildersleeve of Horseheads; Sgts. Lloyd W. Merritt of Deposit, Henry S. Rhodes of Ellenville, John J. Halloran of Sidney, Leo A. Kiszak of Vestal and Troopers James J. Varricchio of Ithaca, Ronald R. Brooks of Ellenville and James M. Curtis of Ellenville.

The courses, one which started Monday and a similar one starting May 15, will be held at Troop Headquarters at Loudenville, near Albany. They are designed to develop the teaching skills of members serving as instructors in various subjects taught in the training programs of the New York State Police Academy.

Four Young Brothers Perish

FREEHOLD TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — Four brothers, four years old or less, perished early today when fire engulfed their home in a rural section of Monmouth County here.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, broke out about 2 a. m. in the two-story frame house occupied by Mrs. Joyce Pudder, 29, on the Freehold-Englishtown Road.

When police and firefighters arrived, they found Mrs. Pudder perched on a second-story roof ledge clutching another son, Roger, 6.

"Please God, help my children out," she screamed hysterically.

The intense heat and flames prevented rescuers from reaching the second-floor bedrooms where the four children were.

The victims were Robert, 4, Douglas, 3, Ira, 2, and Woodrow, 7 months.

Dr. C. Malcolm B. Gilman, the county coroner, said the charred bodies of the two older children were found on the floor. The younger boys died in their beds, apparently of smoke inhalation, he said.

Mrs. Pudder has two other children, Emma, 5, and Kenneth, 7, who were staying with grandparents. Mrs. Pudder is separated from her husband, Ira E. Pudder, who is believed to be out of the state, police said.

SEEC Names '67 Chairmen

SEEC committees for the coming year were appointed at the recent regular meeting by Doris Hamma, president. The organization for the blind and near blind pursues a program of social, economic, educational and cultural enrichment for those with sight problems.

Appointed were:

Social, Joseph Thurin, chairman, with co-chairmen Joyce Anderson, Mattie Johnson; economic, Milton Reynolds, chairman, with co-chairmen, Karl Pitcock, Alice Allen, Marge Jansen; educational, Howard Stauble, chairman, with co-chairmen, Francis Bilvov, cultural, Minford Overfield, chairman, with co-chairmen, Covale Orr, Mrs. Francella Smith, Mrs. Elsie Ford.

Also appointed were special activities, Roy Van Bramer, chairman, with co-chairmen, Robert Richmond, Frank Simpson, Jessie Clark; historian, Joyce Anderson; chaplain, Cora Hogan; sergeant-at-arms, Edward Leonard; publicity, Pearl Weber; radio announcements, Josephine Terwilliger; picnic arrangements, Max Oppenheim; chairman, with co-chairman, George Banks.

Plans for field trips during the summer were discussed and members were asked to bring suggestions to the next meeting.

At the May meeting, Howard Stauble, chairman of the educational part of the endeavors of the blind, will present a program of education which will be the first of three such programs. After the meeting a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed by all. Because the date of the next regular meeting falls on Memorial Day, the next meeting will be held a week earlier, May 23 at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, Kingston, at 8 p. m.

In that clash 16 Americans and 40 Viet Cong were reported killed and 40 Americans wounded.

More than 400 miles to the north, a battalion of South Vietnamese paratroopers supported by armored vehicles clashed with more than 500 Communists five miles northwest of Hue, the former royal capital of Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese said they trapped the Communists in a loop of the Song Bo River and killed 156 of them in a two-hour battle Tuesday night. Government losses were reported as very light. The fighting was on the southern edge of a U.S. Marine operation named Shave.

The South Vietnamese said they captured three of the enemy and 35 weapons. For the past two months the Communists have been attacking roads, bridges, outposts and pacification teams in the Hue area.

Red Cross Aids Storm Victims In Midwest

Weary Red Cross volunteers and staff continue on the job, giving emergency assistance to some 9,000 persons whose home were in the paths of the devastating tornadoes, windstorms and thunderstorms which lashed across the Midwest a week or so ago.

Hardest hit were two communities in northern Illinois, Belvidere and Oak Lawn, suburbs of Chicago, but damage was reported from southern Oklahoma to as far north as Grand Rapids and Hillsdale, Mich.

The mayors of Oak Lawn, Belvidere and Rockford, 16 miles from Belvidere, early signed proclamations designating the Red Cross as the official disaster relief agency.

Over $16,000 had been contributed to the Red Cross for assistance in Belvidere by April 25. Donors included the United Fund agencies in Rockford and Belvidere, as well as foundations and organizations in these two communities.

By April 25, 25 confirmed deaths stood at 54, including 32 in the Chicago area, 21 in Belvidere and one in Hillsdale. As of April 24 there were 981 reported injured, with 322 requiring hospitalization. About 550 homes were destroyed, and about 1,200 more sustained major damage.

Hampered by Snow

In Belvidere on Sunday, April 23, the American Red Cross fed 1,700 victims and workers. Clean-up operations were hampered by a four-inch snow, and the Red Cross distributed plastic coverings to protect what was left of their homes. On Tuesday, April 25, clean-up kits and tools were distributed.

On Friday night, April 21, within an hour and a half after the tornado hit Belvidere, mobile canteens and communications were on their way to the stricken city. The canteens were from St. Louis and Des Moines, which were at Keosauqua, Ia., following a recent tornado there, were sent to Belvidere. The Red Cross chapter in Milwaukee sent one canteen and two communications vans and the Madison, Wis. chapter sent a mobile canteen.

The Badger Red Cross Blood Center in Madison rushed nearly 100 pints of blood to Rockford and Belvidere Hospitals.

A special welfare inquiry team from the American Red Cross was assigned to assist the volunteers in the Rock River chapter, Rockford, in answering nearly 700 messages received from across the country concerning Belvidere residents. The Mid-America Chapter in Chicago is handling welfare inquiries for Oak Lawn and other nearby communities.

Set Up Morgue

In Oak Lawn, a temporary morgue, set up Friday night, April 21 in the VFW Hall was staffed by nine Red Cross nurses, including students and nuns. Three Red Cross shelters in Oak Lawn and one in Lake Zurich was open all weekend to provide food and clothing and to accept registrations for assistance. A major portion of the food was provided by the Red Cross by the Surplus Commodities division of the Department of Agriculture.

Youth volunteers in Grand Rapids, Mich., were busy all day Sunday, April 23 manning mobile canteens. Fowler, Mich., reported that 100 persons were fed.

Tornadoes struck again Sunday in three counties in southwest Missouri. There were no deaths, but one man was hospitalized. One home in Green County was destroyed.

Wins Scholarship To Iowa College

Edward Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mills, of 154 West Pierpont Street, has been awarded a full scholarship to attend Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa. The award was made at the recent spring conference of the New York State Section of the American Water Works Association at Syracuse.

The particular scholarship which he received was established for dependent of water utility employees of the state as part of the advancement program of the water works Association. Mills is a graduate of Kingston High School where he was active in football, baseball and basketball and he plans to pursue a course leading to a degree in Physical Education at the Iowa school.

The youth's father is a foreman in the Maintenance Division of the Kingston Water Department and both he and his wife attended the Syracuse meeting last month at which the award was made.

Abraham Lincoln served in the Illinois State Militia for 90 days in 1832.

of PRICES REDUCED!

we care

LET'S TALK A MOMENT ABOUT REDUCED PRICES!

Many stores claim they have reduced prices, but have they also sacrificed quality and service too?

At A&P, we have reduced hundreds of prices and plan on reducing even more!

And at A&P...We also care about you.

We still trim our meats for best value

We still buy only the finest fruits & vegetables

We still have the friendliest clerks in town

We still guarantee everything we sell whether it's ours or a nationally advertised brand.

We still have the largest selections of our own brands at even better savings, and remember if an item bears the A&P circle, it is guaranteed to be just as good or better than the best.

At A&P, we care about you!
Please let us prove it.

Dear Abby

Daughter Nagged to Get Husband

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a single girl of 29, living at home with my widowed mother. I have a good job and am very happy. I date, but have no one steady. Even though I am content with my life, my mother is not. She thinks something must be "wrong" with me because I'm not married by now and it doesn't seem to bother me. She's even suggested I get psychiatric help.

I appreciate her motherly concern, but I am getting sick of hearing her tell me to hurry up and grab the next thing that comes along because it might be the last. She insists that every "normal" woman should have a husband. I can't take much more of her badgering. Please help me.

DEAR HAPPY: Tell your mother to quit worrying about you and to go on a manhunt of her own. (Widows are "normal," and she has less time left than you.) Point out that you can't in good conscience go to work on getting a man unless she has one. And if she still thinks you should see a psychiatrist, tell her you'll go if she will.

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon and have had several lovely bridal showers. I received many duplicate gifts, such as toasters, mixers, steam irons, coffee-makers and deep-fryers. Mac (my fiancé) and I had planned on exchanging all the duplicate gifts for things we need but didn't get as gifts, so when my mother asked me if she could have every item I got more than one of, I told her I'd have to talk it over with Mac. My mother got real mad and said, "I didn't see Mac's name on any of the shower-gift cards!" Now she won't even talk to me. Imagine trying to plan a wedding with a mother who won't speak to you! Am I wrong? Or is my mother wrong? She called me a selfish, ungrateful child.

DEAR DOWNHEARTED: Altho Mac's name may not have been on the cards, the shower gifts were intended for your future household — yours and Mac's, so I think your mother is wrong.

DEAR ABBY: You have led a most sheltered life if you didn't know that some boarding schools claim the right to censor their students' mail. (Notice I said "claim," not "have.") The post office department specifically states that some institutions such as mental hospitals, prisons, and the military, at certain times, may open first class mail, but otherwise it is strictly confidential. And for anyone other than the addressee to open it is a federal offense — a felony. If "Inquiring" wants to put a stop to any mail opening, she should consult with her local postmaster. If her school has, in fact, been opening her mail, a simple warning from the postmaster should put an end to it. If it doesn't, the threat of a federal crime action against the school should scare the holy noddiness out of them. K.A.B.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Cheated And Discarded": For nearly 20 years, by your own admission, you watched your employer cheat others. Yet you remained as part of his organization and said nothing. So why are you now surprised to find yourself a victim of his ruthlessness? You need the services of a good lawyer.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 6900, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Strike Canceled In Rochester, No Buses Yet

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A court order Tuesday night directed a transit union here to cancel the one-day-old strike of its 450 drivers and mechanics. Copies of the order were distributed to officials of Division 282, Amalgamated Transit Union, AFL-CIO. Whether bus service resumes depends on the reaction of the union officials.

The buses were still off the streets early today and the dispatcher on duty told a reporter that no drivers had reported for morning work shifts. Justice Jacob Ark of the State Supreme Court issued the temporary restraining order at the request of the Rochester Transit Corp., the operator of the buses.

A company spokesman said it was hoped the order would halt the strike at least until Monday when the firm plans to apply for a preliminary injunction barring a resumption of the walkout. Union leaders called the strike Tuesday after receiving authorization Sunday night during a meeting of the local. The strike centered around a dispute over the company's right to transfer a worker and its refusal to remove a management employee. The company maintains the walkout was a flagrant violation of the union contract. School attendance dropped sharply Tuesday without bus service, but traffic and employee-absenteeism appeared little affected.

Boy Scout News 21 in Hurley Troop Pass First Aid Tests

Twenty-one members of Boy Scout Troop 20, Hurley, recently completed a Red Cross junior first aid course under volunteer Red Cross First Aid Instructor Robert A. Kurland. Kurland will award the boys their Red Cross certificates at one of the meetings of the troop.

Those earning the certificates after studying correct procedures in first aid for at least 15 hours include the following: Michael Botsford, Charles Bouton, John Gill, James Gogg, Steven Harkin, Michael Hoffer, Steve Hughes, Fred Kurland, William Lang, Michael Littlefield, Keith McDonald, Timothy McGuire, John Mizel, John Rioux, William Schaaf, Dana Stangel, John Walker, Bruce Webster, William Welch, Douglas Whitaker, and James Woodard. Kurland, an associate professor at Ulster County Community College, devotes much volunteer time to the Red Cross, not only as an authorized first aid instructor, but also as an authorized water safety instructor, a member of the board of directors of the Ulster County Chapter, a member of the Disaster Committee of the chapter, as well as assisting his wife, Estelle, who is a service to military families volunteer. Currently he is also serving as the Red Cross chairman for Armed Forces Day to be held at the Kingston Plaza May 20.

Spellman Gets Thayer Award at Rites Saturday

His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, will be honored with a Brigade Review by the Corps of Cadets, starting at 11:50 a. m. on Saturday when he will receive the Sylvanus Thayer Award at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point.
The review will be followed by dinner in Washington Hall, the Cadet dining hall, and the presentation of the award by General (USA Ret.) Cortland Van R. Schuyler, president of the Military Academy's Association of Graduates.
In addition to receiving the award, Cardinal Spellman will have his name inscribed on a memorial plaque, which includes the names of the recipients since the inauguration of the award.
Presented annually by the Association of Graduates, the Thayer Award is given to an outstanding citizen of the United States whose service in the national interest exemplifies personal devotion to the ideals expressed in the motto of the military academy: Duty, Honor, Country.

Little Helper

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Russell Mello is a mother's dream. He loves to do chores — and he'll go just about anywhere in town to lend a helping hand.
There's no charge for his services and when he polished the handrails at St. Luke's Hospital he supplied his own brass polish and cleaning cloths.
He did the job because "I thought it would be nice for charity."
When he is paid for his work, most of the money goes in a savings account for his college education. He wants to be an engineer.
Russell is a sixth-grade student and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Mello.

Crane Touches Line

Bolt Kills Road Worker

Vito Lagattuta, 47, of Suffern, was electrocuted Tuesday when the boom of a New York State Thruway vehicle came in contact with a high voltage line of Central Hudson near the New Paltz exit. Carmine Cuccola, 32 College Road, Monsey, operator of the crane was not injured.

According to an investigation by State Police and Coroner William Keyser, the truck on which the crane was a part was being operated by Lagattuta. Cuccola was the operator of the crane, which was engaged in moving sand and gravel stored off the north bound lane under the high voltage line.

At approximately 9:58 a. m. circuit breakers at the Ohioville Central Hudson station operated fixing the time of the accident. An investigation disclosed that the 40 foot crane had apparently been swung against the 1620 volt line which it was reported was approximately 29 feet from the ground. When the cables operating the crane bucket came in contact with the line there was a flash and the line shorted out.

Jumped, Electrocuted

Apparently frightened by the flash from the high voltage line, Lagattuta attempted to jump from the vehicle and was electrocuted when his foot came in contact with the ground. The breakers in the sub-station reset after a short period and apparently the current had been restored as Lagattuta attempted to jump from the vehicle, investigating officers said. Cuccola swung the boom away from the line and was not injured.

The remains were turned over to the Embury Funeral Home in Ramsey.

In addition to Thruway troopers investigating the accident were Senior Investigator Edward Shannon and Investigator Richard Ryan of the Lake Katrine BCI Unit.

Coroner Keyser's verdict was accidental death due to electrocution.

Signs Rail Strike Ban Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't worry, you can take that train ride or ship your goods by rail today—there's no railroad strike. At least not for 47 more days.

President Johnson signed an emergency bill extending until June 19 a strike ban affecting 137,000 members of six unions for railroad shop workers.

He signed the bill—alone and without ceremony—11 hours before the walkout scheduled for 12:01 a.m. today by the rail workers.

The unions immediately sent formal notice of the strike postponement to their members. It was the third delay in the threatened strike. The first was for 60 days under the Railway Labor Act, the second a 20-day extension voted by Congress.

George Christian, White House press secretary, said Johnson soon would submit to Congress proposals for settling the dispute. His pledge of such proposals eased the way for quick congressional passage of the emergency extension.

The unions—whose walkout about 95 per cent of the nation's rail transport facilities—demanded a six per cent general wage boost. They also want 12.5-cent-an-hour hikes for skilled men the first year and a five per cent raise and 12.5 cents more for skilled workers the second year.

The railroads have offered an 18-month contract providing a six per cent general wage increase plus a 5-cent an hour skill boost.

Scout Bottle Drive

Boy Scouts of Marbleton will conduct a bottle drive Saturday for the purpose of raising money for camp equipment. The boys will collect the bottles and turn them in for deposit. Persons who will not be home Saturday are requested to leave their bottles on their porches with a note "For BSA." Douglas Holly gave a demonstration on campfire making at the recent meeting of the troop. Buffalo, Wildcat, and White Stag had 100 per cent representation at the meeting attended by 32 scouts.

Pope Paul Pleads for Viet Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pleading for an end to the Vietnam war, Pope Paul VI declared today he will fly to Portugal May 13 "to pray once more with more humility and fervor in favor of peace."

He told thousands of visitors to his weekly general audience that he would make a one-day trip to Fatima, a religious shrine in rough mountain country 141 miles north of Lisbon, to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Fatima Vision.

But the Pope said the trip, his fourth abroad, would have its proper significance in the prayers he would offer there for peace.

In words that rang with anguish, the Pope lamented the lack of peace in the world and voiced hope that proposals to negotiate an end to the Vietnam conflict would be accepted.

Schedule Radio Marathon for GI, Viet Gifts

Ulster Hose Company No. 5 in conjunction with Jim Tyrrell and Big John and Station WKNY staff have planned a 30-hour marathon the weekend of May 6-7 in support of the drive launched by the fire company to obtain gifts for Ulster County servicemen now in Vietnam.

Edward Engelhardt, general chairman of the fire unit committee for Vietnam servicemen, said today the marathon on WKNY will start at 12 noon on Saturday and continue without interruption until 6 p. m. on Sunday.

Tyrrell and the others plan to place a large roll outside the radio studio on Broadway listing the names of each of more than 100 area servicemen on duty in Vietnam. As new names are received they will be added to the roll.

Ulster Hose Co. volunteer firemen will be on hand throughout the 30-hour marathon. Engelhardt said Tyrrell is seeking the cooperation of area bands and other music units. Veterans groups and other organizations to participate in the weekend program.

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy has arranged to provide ample police for duty to handle parking of cars and traffic and it is expected that the Modjeska Sign Studios Inc., will put up a sign noting the time of the marathon.

A 1,000-gallon fire truck from Ulster Hose Co. will be stationed in front of the radio studio during the marathon with a portable lighting system to provide light throughout Saturday night.

Members of Ulster Hose Auxiliary will be available to receive calls from area residents at WKNY throughout the 30 hours on the air for the Vietnam service men's drive. It is planned to ask area photographers to be at the studio at times to take pictures of contributors to the drive. Copies of the photos will be sent to the servicemen from Ulster County.

Services of the owner of a flatbed truck are sought as plans by Tyrrell are to install a WKNY transmitter on the truck, which will tour the city and towns broadcasting direct to the public and urging their support.

Meanwhile, an endorsement of the movement to obtain cash and other gifts for the county servicemen, was received from a high ranking officer of a national veteran's organization. Robert H. Saehloff, a member of the Kingston Daily Freeman advertising staff, and first vice president of the 12th Armored Division Association, issued a statement as follows:

Catskill CC Renames Berry

Franklin M. Berry, area manager for Central Hudson at Catskill, has been elected president of the Catskill Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was held at Catskill Motor Lodge Monday. Other officers are Henry VanLoan, first vice-president; Eugene K. Somers, second vice-president; Chancey Smith, third vice-president and John D. Barry, secretary-treasurer.

The Chamber pledged $1,500 to the Washington Irving Amphitheatre, a corporation formed to build an outdoor theatre in Palenville for the Rip Van Winkle pageant, a musical show with songs by Fred Spielman and lyrics by Kermit Goell.

"The apparent success of this drive for gifts has started. This project is probably one of the most needed and deserving services for our men in Vietnam that could be sponsored locally."

Saehloff, who is presently aiding in the promotion of his Division's 21st annual reunion in Detroit, recalls that many stories repeated year after year at these gatherings usually include a number concerning details evolving from items received in packages from home.

"I strongly urge every citizen in Ulster County to cooperate in this endeavor so that each GI from our area now fighting in Vietnam can receive a little something extra from the folks back home," Saehloff said.

Drive the cost of living down, without giving up all this.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price.

Two months after the '67s came out, Automotive News made its annual roominess study. And Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride, of course, is Full Coil suspension smooth with refinements that make it more road-sure than ever. That brings us to price. Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars you can buy. That should bring you to your Chevrolet dealer's.

Chevelle's quick size.

It's quick to climb, quick to turn, quick to do what you tell it to. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But two things they're not. They're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet, which means all this: Body by Fisher, the GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders to protect the outer fenders, Full Coil suspension. You're better off with a Chevelle. You really are.

Camaro's road-hugging stance.

At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. Yet, it doesn't hug you too close, because it's also the roomiest car of its kind at its price. You get a bigger standard engine. You get a car that handles. You get a lot of fun out of driving again. And, during your Chevrolet dealer's Camaro Pacesetter Sale, look at the buy you get.

See your Chevrolet dealer during his Camaro Pacesetter Sale

Special buys on Camaro Sport Coupes and Convertibles specially equipped with: 250-cubic-inch Six, 155 hp • Deluxe steering wheel • Bumper guards • Whitewall tires • Wheel covers • Wheel opening moldings • Striping along the sides • Extra interior brightwork • And, at no extra cost during the sale, special hood stripe and a floor shift for the 3-speed transmission! ## Cast Is Selected For 'Three Penny,' Paltz Players

The Three Penny Opera has been selected as the spring production of the New Paltz Players, dramatics organization at State University College. Written by Bertolt Brecht with music by Kurt Weill, the play is a satire based on John Gay's the Beggar's Opera, adapted by Mark Blitzstein.

The action of the play is centered around Soho, England, just before the Coronation of Queen Victoria and deals with the underhanded schemes of a certain notorious criminal-Mackheath—better known as "Mack the Knife." Mack, his gang of comical cohorts, his various female "acquaintances" and the hilarious Peachums make "Three Penny" a ribald, rakish comedy.

Rehearsals have been in progress for several weeks. Stuart Forde, who lives in Poughkeepsie, takes the role of Mackheath. Bob Davidson, also from Poughkeepsie, and Ann Kubik portray Mr. and Mrs. Peachum with Sue Silversmith as their daughter. Polly Richard Curtis, who lives in Saugerties and Ginger Licopoli appear as Tiger and Lucy Brown. Sonja Fryell is cast in the role of Jenny Diver, and Barbara Hyslop, Andrea Kaufman, Pauline Lasso, district deputy of Court Santa Maria, Anne Fitzgerald, grand regent, Mary Travis, past district deputy and lecturer; Phyllis Dahowski, vice grand regent; Margaret Gorman, treasurer; Victoria Ward, monitor; Mary O'Brien, trustee; Margaret Phelan, Gertrude Mahoney, Louise Weider.

Members were reminded of the communion luncheon scheduled for Sunday, May 7 at 11:45 a. m. Mass at St. Peter's Church followed by luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Jane Madden is in charge of reservations and deadline is May 3. Guest speaker will be the Rev. William Doherty of the Missionaries of La Salle.

He was ordained to the priesthood in 1955. Originally from Boston, he has spent a few years as a missionary in Mississippi and six years in Burma until recently when the Cath-

Court Santa Maria Holds Initiation; Sets May Election

Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America held an initiation ceremony Thursday evening in the meeting rooms of the Knights of Columbus building. A large number of members were in attendance.

Taking part in the ceremony were the officers of the Court, Margaret Mitchell, grand regent; Marie Dobkins, vice grand regent; Emily Spada, prophetess; Anne Cokely, financial secretary; Rita Brazee, historian; Catherine Herd, treasurer; Helen VanSteenburgh, acting monitor; Helen Spada, sentinel; Joan L. Woinoski, lecturer; Helen Evans, organist; Helen Barry, Helen Elgo, Elizabeth McDonough, Jane Madden, Helen VanSteenburgh and Kitty Liscom, trustees.

Five new members were received into the Court including Margaret Smith, Ann Felice, Margaret M. O'Reilly, Carmelia Fallon and Joyce Bush from Poughkeepsie. Julia Joyce and Rose Domonica were reinstated.

The color guard consisted of Alice Zates, flag bearer and Agnes Halloran and Alice O'Connor guards. The banner bearer was Elizabeth McDonough with Helen Beaver as guide.

Among the guests that attended the reception were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Austin V. Carey, chaplain of the court; Mrs. Walter Fallon, district deputy of Poughkeepsie, Marlboro and Highland and member of the local court; a delegation from Court Irenita No. 69 of Poughkeepsie which included Julia Phelan, past district deputy, past grand regent and present trustee, Pauline Lasso, district deputy of Court Santa Maria, Anne Fitzgerald, grand regent, Mary Travis, past district deputy and lecturer; Phyllis Dahowski, vice grand regent; Margaret Gorman, treasurer; Victoria Ward, monitor; Mary O'Brien, trustee; Margaret Phelan, Gertrude Mahoney, Louise Weider.

Members were reminded of the communion luncheon scheduled for Sunday, May 7 at 11:45 a. m. Mass at St. Peter's Church followed by luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Jane Madden is in charge of reservations and deadline is May 3. Guest speaker will be the Rev. William Doherty of the Missionaries of La Salle.

He was ordained to the priesthood in 1955. Originally from Boston, he has spent a few years as a missionary in Mississippi and six years in Burma until recently when the Catholic priests were expelled. Now he is assistant pastor in St. Francis DeSales Church in Phoenicia. Marie Dobkins is chairman of the breakfast and Catherine Herd, co-chairman.

Following the initiation refreshments were served by Mrs. John O'Connor and her committee which included the Mmes. Donald Sangaline, Louis Aiello, Walter Murdock, Daniel Halloran, Eugene Simoncini, Thomas Turck and Miss Elizabeth McDonough. The court colors, purple and gold, were used for the candles and general motif. Rose Turck provided an original centerpiece of purple hyacinths and yellow daffodils in a gold bowl designed by herself. Those who served included Margaret Mitchell, Alice O'Connor, Helen Elgo and Catherine Herd.

The next regular monthly meeting will be held Thursday, May 11. Election of officers will take place at this meeting. Installation is scheduled for June 8.

Turnau Opera In Woodstock Home After Tour

Turnau Opera Company has concluded its spring tour and members of the company are back in their Woodstock home, Birdcliff.

The spring tour consisted of more than 30 performances of LA TRAVIATA beginning in February in Lake Wales, Fla. The company traveled as far west as Texas and as far north as Minnesota. The operative entourage consists of two station wagons, a trailer, eight singers, one musical director, two technical directors and two small, brown and very adaptable dogs named Max and Sam.

Plans are now underway for the opera company's 14th summer season which will include Stravinsky's THE RAKE'S PROGRESS and Leoncavallo's I PAGLIACCI.

Detailed information about the operas may be obtained by writing to: Turnau Opera Association, Woodstock, N. Y.

Virginia Light Weds William Hutton

Miss Virginia May Light, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Light, 132 Seeley Street, Scotia, exchanged marriage vows with William Robert Hutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William John Hutton of Hurley, N.Y., on March 25. The Rev.

Harold Schut was the officiating clergyman in the Scotia Reformed Church.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and silk organza with semi-bouffant skirt and train. Her tulle rosette held a four tiered bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of cymbidium orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Phyllis Light was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Conyers, sister of the bridegroom, Poughkeepsie, Miss Miriam Lomitzer of Port Washington; and Miss Joellen Klein, Isp.

All wore blue lace gowns in cage style with georgette overskirts. They also wore matching rosette headpieces with short filiation veils.

Frederick Snyder of Kingston was best man and ushering were James Light, Scotia; Jeffrey Maxwell and Earl Wright of Hurley; William Conyers Jr., Poughkeepsie was ringbearer.

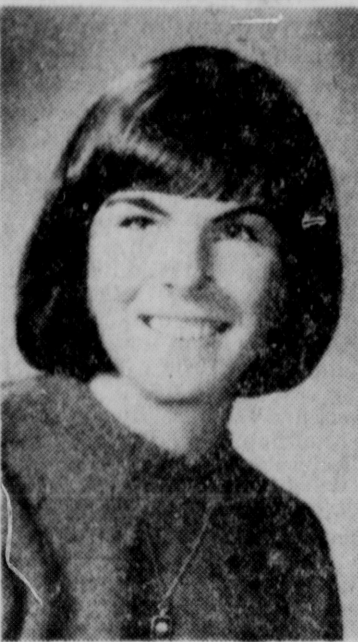

A luncheon for 125 guests was given in Brink Hall.

Mrs. Hutton was graduated from Scotia Glenville High School and State University College at Oneonta. She is a teacher in the Galway Elementary School.

Mr. Hutton was graduated from Kingston High School and received his degree in electrical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1966. He is working on his masters at RPI.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutton will reside in Clifton Park, N. Y.

school band conducted by Harry Simon. Proceeds will be applied to the Music Department Scholarship Fund which each year enables deserving music students to attend the summer session for high school music students at the University of Vermont in Burlington. Tickets will be sold at the door the evening of the concert.

PATRICIA BOYD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boyd of 18 Overlook Drive, Kingston, has been accepted as a freshman at Ithaca College, Ithaca, N. Y. She has also received a four year scholastic scholarship from the college in the amount of $1,000 per year. Miss Boyd will be graduated from Kingston High School with honors.

She is secretary of National Honor Society; vice president of French Honor Society; secretary of A. A. Council, and was 1966-67 captain of the Varsity Cheerleading Squad. She is also a member of Hi-Y, Leaders Club, Prisma and Letter Club. At Ithaca, Miss Boyd plans to major in science.

There will be no admission charge at the door. Refreshments will be available. The public is invited.

Who do you tip? When, and how much? You will find the answers to these questions in Elizabeth L. Post's booklet "The Etiquette of Tipping." To get a copy, send twenty-five cents in coin to cover booklet and shipping expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this paper.

Doing The Right Thing

BY ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute

The following questions have all been taken from letters I have received recently. Dining out is one of the greatest pleasures we have, but there seem to be many small problems which worry people and detract from their pleasure. Possibly some of those below have bothered you, and the answers may help you. The more certain you are that you are doing the right thing, the pleasanter your evening will be.

1. When you sit down and order a cocktail in a restaurant, you put your napkin in your lap (a) as soon as you sit down. (b) when the dinner is served.

2. When bacon and scrambled eggs are passed on a platter you (a) use the serving utensils for the bacon. (b) pick the bacon up with your fingers.

3. When eating baked potatoes in a restaurant, (a) you scoop out and eat only the inside. (b) you may eat the skin separately like bread and butter.

4. When taking a child who is a small eater to a restaurant, you should (a) order a small meal for him. (b) ask for a separate plate and give him some of your meal.

5. When there are three or four couples at a table, the first one served should wait to start eating until (a) everyone at the table is served. (b) two or three others have been served.

6. When a waiter asks a woman a question, such as: "What kind of salad dressing do you want?" she (a) tells her escort who in turn tells the waiter. (b) answers the waiter herself.

7. Before being eaten in the fingers, sandwiches made from whole slices of bread should be (a) cut in half. (b) cut into bite-sized pieces.

8. A small doily is found under the finger-bowl when it is brought in on the dessert plate. This doily is (a) removed to the table with the finger bowl. (b) left on the dessert plate when the fingerbowl is removed.

9. When soup is served in a consommé cup with two handles (a) it must be eaten with the soup spoon. (b) the cup may be picked up to drink the soup.

10. When jumbo shrimp cocktail is served in a stemmed bowl you should (a) use a knife to cut the shrimp. (b) use the edge of your fork, holding the stem of the glass with the other hand.

The correct answers are:
1. (a) 6. (b)
2. (a) 7. (a)
3. (b) 8. (a)
4. (a) 9. (b)
5. (b) 10. (b)

45 Anniversary Candles for Junior League of Kingston

PAST AND PRESIDENT — Mrs. Robert Roy Rodie, at left, first president of the local League, helps the current president, Mrs. George Beck, cut an anniversary cake. The league was organized locally with 10 charter members.

FORMER OFFICERS HONORED — Past presidents of the Junior League received corsages in honor of the occasion. They are (l-r) Mrs. Milton M. Grover, Mrs. Peter Corsones, Mrs. Frank Matthews, Mrs. Robert MacKinnon, and Mrs. James E. Norton.

JUNIOR LEAGUE CELEBRATION

By
DOROTHY A. NAREL
WOMAN'S PAGE EDITOR

Ten Kingston women got together in 1922 and organized a local chapter of the Junior League. The idea was borrowed from Mary Harriman of New York, Averill Harriman's sister, who had organized the League in that city in 1901. It became a national organization by 1912.

Mrs. Robert Roy Rodie was the first president in Kingston, and today the League counts 140 active and sustaining memberships on its books.

Monday night (May 1), the League in Kingston celebrated its 45th anniversary with special honors accorded its past presidents.

The purpose of the Junior League of Kingston is "to foster interest among its members in the social, economic, educational, cultural and civic conditions of the community, and to make efficient and volunteer service."

To this end, the Junior League of Kingston has a remarkable record.

Mrs. George Beck, current president, listed some of the outstanding projects supported by the League.

In talking with Mrs. George Beck, current League president, it is evident that the local chapter has been a busy one. To its credit is the establishment of a Well Baby Clinic, now operated by the hospitals; a loan closet for hospital and home patients; a thrift shop which was conducted from 1951 to 1966 on Crown Street; contribution of an antique well to the Senate House; puppet shows for grade school children; and organization of the Children's Room at the Kingston City Library.

To be eligible for membership in the League, one must have an interest in the community, be under 35 years of age and be sponsored by an active member.

With 45 years behind them, the Junior League of Kingston is looking forward to the next 45 years of accomplishment.

PRESIDENTS SIGN IN—Signing the register at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Monday, (May 1) where the Junior League of Kingston observed its 45th anniversary are former presidents (l-r) Mrs. Sherwood Davis, Mrs. Robert Numrich Jr., and Mrs. William H. Hilton.

LEAGUE OFFICERS FOR '67-'68—Steering activities for the Junior League of Kingston during 1967-1968 will be (l-r) Mrs. Charles A. Galyon, treasurer; Mrs. George Beck, president; Mrs. Thomas Reynolds Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Embree, vice president; and Mrs. Percy Lyon, recording secretary.

Spratt Elected District 2 Head

John Spratt, president of the Woodstock Jaycees, was recently elected to the office of District President of District 2, Division 2, consisting of Jaycee locals in Woodstock, Saugerties, Kingston, New Paltz, Coxsack and Hudson, of the New York State Jaycees.

The election was held on Friday evening, April 14, at the Jaycee Division 2 meeting in Fishkill. Also at this meeting was New York State Jaycee President Bernard Sweeney as guest speaker.

In his new office Spratt will be a member of the N.Y.S. Jaycee Executive Committee and will be directly responsible for those Jaycee locals in the mid-Hudson area. Formal installation as District President will take place at the state Jaycee Convention in Rochester on May 19-20.

As a member of the Woodstock Jaycees for the past three years, Spratt has served with many committees and as secretary-treasurer and is presently president of the local.

Spratt lives with his wife Margaret and three children, Margaret-ann, 7, and their twins John Jr. and Regina 2½, on Nissen Court, West Hurley. He is employed as a Senior Associate Engineer at IBM, Kingston.

Special Concert Set at Overlook

The Rev. James W. Cook, pastor of Overlook Methodist Church, announces that Sunday, May 7, the Rev. Wesley D. Osborne will be the guest speaker. Osborne is District Superintendent of the Hudson North District of the New York Annual Conference. He was appointed to this district in June of 1966, and resides in Kingston. His sermon title will be "Are Debtors."

Also on Sunday evening, May 7, the Lyric Choristers will present a concert in the sanctuary of Overlook Church. This choral group of about 30 mixed voices is now under the direction of Richard Bilsh a music teacher in the Onteora Central School system. They are well known throughout the area for their fine renditions of secular music. The guest soloist for this concert will be Hasbrouck G. Dougherty and they will be accompanied by Mrs. Helen Chin Ling. The program will begin at 7 p. m. and there will be no admission. A free-will offering will be taken. "Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Proverbs: "Where there is no vision, the people perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he." Sunday services in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Woodstock are held at 11 a. m.

Appoint Witter To Institute At Waterville

A teacher at Onteora Central High School, Willis Witter, has been appointed as a participant for the second consecutive year in the National Science Foundation Summer Institute for teachers of high school chemistry. The institute will be at Colby College in Waterville, Me. The institute has been established for the purpose of enriching and up-dating the background of high school teachers so that they in turn may better prepare the students for post high school education. In addition to pursuing additional work in chemistry the participants will undertake work in the related field of mathematics.

Witter has taught at Onteora for the past four years. He is a graduate of Cornell University and has done graduate work at the State University of New York at Albany in the past.

Garden Club Plans Three-Way Meeting

At a meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. Robert Geary, 13 Old Mill Road, New Paltz, plans were made for a joint meeting of the Shawangunk Garden Club, Woodstock Garden Club and New Paltz Garden Club.

The speaker for this meeting, to be held in New Paltz, May 20 at 2 p. m., will be Mrs. John Wrenn, president of Ikebana International.

Present at the recent meeting were Mrs. Guy Davenport and Mrs. Lloyd Wilkoff of Ellenville, Mrs. S. Brainard West and Mrs. Ethel Bradshaw of Woodstock and Mrs. David Rosenbaum of Pine Bush.

List Building Plans for Town Of Woodstock

A large tract comprising up for a summer estate, it was noted. The old Neuber homestead is more than 135 years old.

Plans for the building project were made known today by Gordon Leonard of Kansas City, Mo., in a letter to a Freeman reporter replying to an inquiry about proposed use of three parcels of land acquired recently from Peter J. Weider, Glenford, owner of the former Neuber estate in the Town of Woodstock.

Leonard noted that he plans to sub-divide the three parcels of land for the custom residences, and he made known that a central water system will be provided and building plans will require approval by the development committee headed by Mrs. Susan Cox of Woodstock.

One of the three parcels comprising 57½ acres is located at the northeast corner of a farm now or formerly owned by Wolven and it adjoins the John S. Wigram lands. Another parcel contains 60 acres, and a third parcel of two acres adjoins the Cornelius Longendyke lands, according to deeds recorded in the office of the Ulster County clerk.

The three parcels of land are a part of the old Neuber estate. Weider said that the old Neuber residence was sold last year to Nicholas Krushnick, of New York City, who is associated with the Art Museum. Krushnick, a famous painter, has been reconstructing the homestead

Piped Up to 110

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's oldest citizen celebrated his 110th birthday recently, the news Agency CTK reported. It added he was a pipe master all his life but drank alcohol occasionally only.

OCS Sponsors Maytime Clinic

Onteora Central Schools in cooperation with the Ulster County Health Department is sponsoring an immunization clinic during May.

Measles vaccine will again be offered. This is a live, attenuated virus which is given in one injection. Any child over nine months of age who has not had the measles should receive this injection. It should not be given to a child who is allergic to eggs or who has a family history of strong allergies. This is not a protection against German measles.

This year any elementary school child who has never had either measles or the measles vaccine may, with parent's written consent, receive the vaccine at the school.

Vaccination or re-vaccination against small pox will also be done. Vaccination against small pox is preferable before age of one year and re-vaccination every five to seven years thereafter.

However, a smallpox vaccination will not be given with measles vaccine. Consent forms have been sent home with kindergarten and first grade pupils. These are to be signed and returned to the school if the parents wish to take advantage of this free clinic. Any parents not receiving such consent forms and wishing to avail themselves of this offer should contact the school nurse-teacher at their child's school.

Pre-schoolers in the Onteora district may take advantage of this free clinic and should be brought to their neighborhood schools according to the following time schedule:

Phoenicia School, May 11 at 9 a. m.
Bennett School, Boiceville, May 11 at 11:30 a. m.
Woodstock School, May 12 at 10 a. m.
West Hurley School I, May 17 at 10:30 a. m.

Kendall Jett Appeal Denied in Ellenville

By CHARLES BERMPOLH

James Edward Marshall — alias Kendall I. Jett — went back to the Kingston jail Wednesday to continue serving a one year jail sentence for petit larceny. His appeal to change his plea from guilty to not guilty — incorporated in his counsel's writ of error coram nobis — was denied by Police Court Justice Ronald Elias, the Ellenville judge who originally sentenced him on March 20.

The case received more than casual notice because of the interest expressed by Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Ellenville), who claimed that the trial was conducted with "unnecessary speed", that "there were no witnesses, no written record of the interrogation or court proceedings, and no defense counsel for Jett (Marshall)."

"Frontier Justice" Resnick termed the proceedings, "vigilante, frontier-style justice."

Attorney for the defendant, Saul H. Altholz of Kerhonkson, in attempting to get Jett, "his day in court," faced Assistant District Attorney Albert I. Lonstein of the Ellenville area.

The police court, which one reached by climbing the narrow wooden staircase to the second floor of a building, was packed with spectators, troopers, policemen, lawyers and the press.

Jett was brought in about a half-hour before the 2 p. m. trial. He is slightly-built Negro, 24 years of age, coming originally from Rhode Island.

Sought New Life

According to Jett, he left Rhode Island to start a new life in New York. Seeking employment in the mountains, he obtained a job about a month before his arrest at the Brookside Hotel in Kerhonkson as a breakfast cook. Not being satisfied there, he left after four days to work for the Central House, in Kerhonkson.

Sometime around the hour of 1:45 a. m. on Thursday, April 20, Jett was seen in the vicinity of the Eckstein candy store on Center Street in Ellenville by two State Troopers. The store window was broken and empty cigarette cartons were seen lying about. It was discovered that Jett had a number of cigarette packs on his person, so he was arrested and subsequently arraigned before Elias wherein he pleaded guilty to a charge of petit larceny. At about 4:30 a. m., Elias sentenced Jett to one year in the Kingston jail — the maximum sentence for the crime.

Jett now claims that he had merely bought the cigarettes from, "a tall man," a Negro, who, according to the defendant, got away just before the police apprehended him (Jett).

Jett states that he had been drinking heavily and that had he known he was being arraigned on a petit larceny charge, he would have pleaded not guilty.

Just before the trial began, Jett was seen reading a paperback edition of Claude Brown's "Manchild in the Promised Land," a book citing the varied absurdities met, and injustices suffered, by a young Negro living in Harlem today.

Asks Disqualification

Attorney Altholz began the proceedings for the defense by calling for a writ of coram nobis "correct the plea of guilty brought before the court," so that a plea of "not guilty" could be entered and, "justice will be done."

Altholz requested that Judge Elias disqualify himself from acting as judge for several reasons: on grounds of the judge's bias and prejudice in the case; that the case received undue publicity which rendered a fair trial impossible; that there was a close business association between the judge and Assistant District Attorney Lonstein; that there was a friendly relation between the judge and the police officers; that Elias was a "lay judge" and would be subjected to hard questions pertaining to law.

Altholz asked for an adjournment until another judge be found to take the case.

Lonstein said that, "my investigation" is such that, "I cannot consent to the granting of the writ." He went on to say that the rights of the defendant would be protected.

Judge Elias said that he would reserve judgment on the motion.

Jett Takes Stand

Under questioning by his counsel, Jett said that he changed his name from James Edward Marshall in order to "put my past behind me," and "adopt a new identity."

He claimed that he had bought the cigarettes from the "tall man" for four dollars, and that no sooner had he turned around when, "they (the State Troopers) were right there."

Later, while in the police court, Jett claimed he heard a police officer say, "we got this one. One got away but we got this one."

Jett went on to say that Police Sergeant George Sheeley had told him that he could get five years for the crime but that, "if I pleaded guilty," he would get a lesser sentence. He also said that he was told that if he got a lawyer it would only complicate matters.

Jett apparently signed a Miranda card admitting, in essence, that his constitutional rights were upheld.

Informed of Right

(The docket reads that Jett was informed of the right to counsel, that he did not desire an adjournment for the right to seek a counsel of his own choice, and he pleaded guilty to the charge of petit larceny.)

Jett claimed, under defense questioning, that he did sign the card — twice in fact — but that he had not read the card, that it wasn't read to him, and that he didn't know exactly what he was signing.

The defendant stated that he had been up for the two days prior to his arrest and that he was intoxicated at the time of his arraignment.

Under cross examination by Lonstein, Jett, who claimed that he never went to high school, said that he never pleaded guilty to petit larceny but to receiving stolen goods.

When asked if he had threatened the judge and the police officers after receiving sentence, Jett said, "Violence is not my way of life, 'drunk or sober.'"

Suggest Burglary

It was brought out that State Troopers C. R. Larson and Francis Henry Steiner, who had originally arrested Jett, told the village police that the defendant should be charged with first degree burglary.

Some observers thought it odd that Ellenville police changed the charge to petit larceny when burglary would have carried a more severe sentence.

Sergeant George Sheeley, six years on the Ellenville police force, was apparently a hostile witness to the defense attorney. He claimed several times that he couldn't hear Altholz, had the lawyer rephrase a number of questions, and was sharp and short in response.

Leaning forward from the witness chair, he continually stared at Jett who, consequently, stared back at him.

Sheeley claimed that the defendant's rights were not violated, that he never threatened Jett with a five year sentence, and that he never promised Jett any leniency.

Altholz pointed out that the judge was not present when Sheeley charged Jett with petit larceny and that Sheeley himself arraigned Jett without the judge's presence, which, he claimed, was in violation of the penal code.

The Summing Up

In summing up, Altholz renewed his application for a change of plea and a new trial, "to secure the defendant's constitutional rights and serve to review an error, and to reexamine and correct the proceedings in this case."

The defense lawyer claimed there was a conflict in testimony and that witnesses could testify whether Jett had been drinking heavily on the night in question, in that the police stated that they saw no evidence of heavy drinking.

Altholz stated that proper arraignment had to be made by the court and in that neither the Assistant DA nor the judge was present during the arraignment, it was, in fact, illegal.

Lonstein claimed that the defendant failed to make an intelligent waiver of his rights, that there was a variance in Altholz's petition and what was proven, that there was no proof of intoxication, and that Jett had signed the Miranda card twice, ridding himself of the desire to obtain counsel.

After an hour recess, Judge

Elias ruled not to disqualify himself and found the original judgment in the case satisfactory.

The Altholz Charges

As for the "close business association" between Elias and Lonstein, it was found that Lonstein had been Elias' attorney but, according to Lonstein, "all those matters are cleared up now," and, "Elias is free to choose whatever counsel he wants."

There was also an allegation that Sergeant Sheeley's wife was Lonstein's secretary.

The suggestion was made of the possible existence of a pattern, wherein Elias was sentencing out-of-towners, and possibly Negroes and Puerto Ricans, to "harsher sentences than those given to Ellenville residents charged with similar crimes."

A check of the criminal docket showed three out-of-town-ers from New York City, another from Texas and a third from Puerto Rico — getting ten day sentences after pleading guilty to vagrancy, with a Spring Glen resident only getting five days for the same charge.

It is possible, however, that the Spring Glen man could prove he had at least a room in the area, a job, and some money.

Pleaded Guilty

Both George Cathart, 21, of Spring Glen, and Angelo Rivera, 50, of Sanford, pleaded guilty to unlawful entry and petit larceny respectively. They were sentenced to the one year maximum by Judge Elias.

It appears on the docket that Rivera, as with Jett, did not desire counsel. He was assigned counsel, however, after he admitted that he was unable to afford a lawyer. The court assigned Frank Spada as the defendant's attorney.

Rivera required an interpreter — Frank Greco — to understand the charges against him. Elias, an insurance salesman, was assigned in January to fill the unexpired term of Frank Decker, running on the Republican ticket in March, he defeated Irving Weisoff (D) and Alex J. Irenberg (Republican running with Democratic support). It appears that the combined Weinoff-Nirenberg vote was greater than Elias' winning margin.

Eckstein's store, with its new window, stands on Center Street, down the block from the Shamrock Bar and Grill where Jett said he spent part of that fateful evening drinking.

Salaries Hiked For Lay Faculty In Archdiocese

Board of Consultants of the Archdiocese of New York recommended today an improved salary scale ranging up to $8,000 per year for lay teachers in parish elementary schools.

The new scale guarantees a beginning annual salary of $5,000 for teachers with Bachelor's Degrees, an increase of almost 40 per cent. Salaries will increase at a rate of $200 per year, over 13 years, up to $7,400.

Teachers with masters' degrees will start at $5,600 and receive annual increases up to $8,000 based upon 12 years of teaching experience.

The improved scale, to be introduced in September, 1967, affects 1,500 lay teachers in the parish schools of the ten counties of the Archdiocese.

The Archdiocese of New York includes: Manhattan, The Bronx, Richmond, Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster Counties.

Regents Board Grants Charter, Cites Changes

ALBANY — The Board of Regents last week granted a provisional charter to Friends of Historic Kingston and approved in principle major reorganization changes within the Department of Education.

Spurred by the indications of future promise as reflected in State and Federal authorizations for program expansion, and in recognition of agency responsibility, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation has been redesignated the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation. This new office, comprised of the divisions of operations, facilities, and management services will enhance the department's properly identify separate responsibilities, and correct the current unwieldy span of control to provide yet greater effectiveness in serving the disabled of the state.

In order to strengthen the department's role in the instructional areas of art and music education, and to provide for maximum operating efficiency, the Division of Humanities and the Arts has been approved.

The new Division, including the Bureau of Art Education and Music Education, will be responsible for the following duties: plan new programs in the humanities and the arts, coordinate programs in the humanities and the arts with departmental instructional and curriculum programs, assist with planning, developing, and reviewing educational materials created by cultural centers for the schools, organize statewide workshops for teachers, administrators, and school librarians, maintain liaison with performing art groups, museums, and other educational resource institutions, cooperate with institutions of higher education in developing appropriate teacher training courses in the humanities and the arts, organize regional performing arts festivals.

Following action by the Department of Civil Service and the Division of the Budget, the Board of Regents will be asked to give final approval to these departmental changes.

The Regents also have approved the renaming of the Division of Archives and History to the Office of State History and the Division of Library Extension to the Division of Library Development.

Wins City Bond Bid

City Treasurer Orrie R. Riehl today announced that Marine Midland Trust Company of Western New York and Associates was the successful bidder Tuesday on purchases of $820,000 of general serial bonds. Its purchase bid was $827,465 plus accrued interest from the date of said bonds and its interest rate was 3.90. Others bids were by the State of New York National Bank, Kingston at $825,297.20 and interest of 3.90 and Morgan Guaranty Company, of New York and Associates at $825,125 and interest of 3.90.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market marked time in active trading early today.

Prices moved in a narrow range and most changes of key issues were fractional.

Brokers said the market was in the process of consolidation after its long climb in April. Some said they felt it soon would be in a position to challenge the 900-level on the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials.

Advances outnumbered losses by a good margin but the averages showed little change.

Chrysler, the only automaker to report a sales gain in April over a year earlier, moved up fractionally.

Opening blocks included Chrysler up 1.8 at 44 on 6,600 shares; General Electric, off ¼ at 92½ on 5,200 shares; Ampex, up ¼ at 31 on 4,000 shares, and Hess Oil, up ¼ at 25½ on 3,900 shares.

32 Volunteers Of West Hurley Attend Course

An intensive Civil Defense light and heavy rescue course was given recently to 32 members of the West Hurley Fire Department.

Lunch was served by the Glenford - West Hurley Fire Auxiliary after which class was resumed.

The course started with a short talk by the instructor outlining the subjects. This talk was followed by a film taken at New York State Civil Defense headquarters. This was taken during a rescue course being given there.

Following this the different kinds of knots, ropes and body slings were reviewed together with the various conditions under which each would be used. The subject of stretcher lashing with its handling and improvisations was next and most interesting. This is most important in the handling of injured persons.

The last item on the agenda was a review and critique of the course.

Leo Somerville of the New York State Civil Defense Commission said that it was one of the best courses of the many he had given.

Training equipment was provided by the Civil Defense Commission and consisted of a fully equipped heavy rescue truck together with ropes, slings and rigging. Firemen from the Town of Olive brought their rescue truck and West Hurley fire equipment stood by during the training period.

In addition to the firemen from Olive there were also firemen from Woodstock and Rosendale who attended the course. Chief Fochi said he hopes other fire companies will arrange to give this training to their men and any fire companies or other organizations wishing to do this should contact the Ulster County Civil Defense office in the County Office Building. All arrangements may be made through the local office of Civil Defense.

Newsman Will Attend Area PR Conclave

Representatives from radio and press in the Kingston-Newburgh area will participate Thursday in a Mid-Hudson Public Relations Conference sponsored by the Community Chests and United Funds in Orange-Ulster and Dutchess Counties.

The conference will begin at noon when Henry Weber, associate executive director of United Community Funds and Council of America will speak. It will be at Marist College. Chairman of the conference is John A. Dougherty, director of development at Marist College.

William F. Bogle, Arthur Roy and Mrs. Ethel Vaughn will be official community chest representatives at the conference.

Contractors Set Annual Dinner, List Speakers

More than 200 contractors, distributors and installers are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Mid-Hudson Valley electrical contractors May 15 at the Governor Clinton Hotel, this city.

Joseph J. Perreca, president of the Perreca Electric Co. Inc. of Newburgh, is dinner chairman. Featured speaker will be James H. Jensen, a representative of General Electric Company.

Also speaking to the group will be John H. Haulenbeck, general sales manager of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, who will discuss the untapped market for electrical contractors.

Perreca said that dinner music will be provided by Johnny Knapp of Kingston, and a professional comedy act from New York City has been engaged.

Needs Sun, Rest

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "All I need is some sunshine and rest, and I'll be in great shape," says actor Fredric March.

He was slated to be released from a hospital today after two weeks' confinement.

The two-time Academy Award winner was stricken last month with a seizure caused by high blood pressure.

March, 69, said he would return with his wife, Florence Eldridge, to their Connecticut home.

Fixed-Income People

Take Inflation Risk

Q—"We live in a retirement home; ample pensions cover our expenses. Most of our money—$39,000—is in savings accounts. We wonder if we should invest $10,000 in annuities. Would these bring us a better income and also be secure. What annuities would be best for our ages?"—L. F.

A—"The contract you should consider is a joint and survivor annuity. This would pay you a fixed, guaranteed monthly income during your joint lifetime and the lifetime of the survivor, regardless of who dies first. The return would be larger than you are getting from any savings account, but the rate depends on your combined ages and I cannot give you the exact figure.

Unless you badly need income, I don't recommend such an annuity for you. Your present income is fixed and your annuity payments would fall into the same category. You would be vulnerable to rising living costs and I advise you to protect yourself by putting $10,000 into good growth stocks which can provide a reasonable, long-term hedge.

Q—"I have several hundred shares of Johnston Mutual Fund. I understand that management of the company is being taken over by the Boston Company. I know nothing about this company and I am concerned, as I am sure many other Johnston shareholders are, about this change in control." S.F.; C.P.; L. F.

A—"I am very happy to reassure you about the Boston Company. This is a holding company which controls the Boston Safe Deposits & Trust Co., and, certainly investment counseling and consulting firms. Management closely parallels that of the trust company itself, which is regarded as a fiduciary in the area it serves. Johnston Mutual has had a good record among the no-load funds and the change in management, in my opinion, will at least maintain this record and could well improve it. I advise you to hold your Johnston shares.

CH Utility Earnings Increased

Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation reported today that net income for the first quarter of this year was $2,637,921, and net income for 12 months ending March 31 was $8,152,067. These results include the combined results of operation for both Central Hudson and the former Ellenville Electric Company, which was merged into Central Hudson on February 7.

The utility reported that the first quarter figure compares with $2,540,164 for the first quarter of 1966 and the 12-month figure compares with $8,692,503 for the same period of time one year ago.

On a share basis, the 1967 earnings are equivalent to 70 cents for the quarter and $2.10 for the 12 months on 3,422,873 shares of common stock outstanding. This compares with 1966 figures of 68 cents and $1.99 on 3,370,073 shares.

In its Quarterly Bulletin to more than 20,000 holders of common stock, Central Hudson reported that total operating revenues from regular customers increased seven per cent during the quarter. Electric revenues increased eight per cent. Commercial revenues were 15 per cent higher than last year. Revenues from residential customers increased ten per cent over the same period in 1966, and industrial revenues were up three per cent. Gas revenues were up five per cent for the quarter.

The philosopher who said April is the cruelest of months must have been thinking about Ulster harassed duffers. But it hasn't been all that bad.

On the other hand, Milton could re-discover his Paradise Lost merely by motoring up Route 28, across Route 375 and feast his eyes on the plush Woodstock Country Club layout. This is easily the most beautiful scene in the area—if you happen to be a golfer.

MRS. A.J. (WIGGIE) DE LISIO, wife of the former Woodstock Country Club president, has completed a remarkable recovery from hip ailments by winning both the winter and open women's club championships at Sunset CC in St. Petersburg, Florida. The best woman golfer ever developed in Ulster County, Wiggie is planning no tournament competition this summer. . . . Do you get annoyed by trivial delays on the first tee at your favorite country club? Count your blessings, brother, then drop around at some of those municipal links, particularly in the metropolitan area, and see how the other half of the golf world lives. . . . M. Leslie Denning, the itinerant golfer, has returned to his Ohayo Mountain hideout from the winter tour to be greeted with some stunning news—Columbia Country Club at Claverack and Winding Brook (Valatie) are seeking franchises in the Mid-Hudson Junior Golf Classic with Twaalfskill, Wiltwyck, Catskill, Woodstock and Red Hook.

IF YOU ARE USING Arnold Palmer Tru-Matic 100 or 90s and First Flight's 101 and 88 compression balls, they do not conform with the Rules of Golf, says the United States Golf Association. . . . Bill Waterous, former Woodstock CC champion and possessor of one of the finest golf swings in the area, has temporarily abandoned the sport. He's now the chief constable in the artist village. . . . Bob Costello, Jordan Pauker and Ed Byman head one of the finest Kingston High School golf teams in years. The plethora of talent on this year's Maroon squad reminds us of Bill Odene's observation about coaching Bert Vaneay at Florida State. "You don't do much coaching in golf," said Odene. "You just guide the boys to and from the golf course." That should relax Coach Harold Hathaway at KHS.

HOW TO PLAY YOUR BEST GOLF ALL THE TIME by Tommy Armour is the finest golf tome we've ever read. Just one man's opinion, of course. . . . Local qualifying round for the 67th U.S. Open Championship June 15-18 at the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N. J., will be held Monday, May 22, at Shaker Ridge Country Club in Loudonville, just outside Albany. All pros (and amateurs with USGA handicaps of 2 or under) are eligible. . . . Area qualifying for the National PGA Championship in Denver, Colo., will be held Monday, June 19, at Wolferts Roost Country Club, Albany. The Roost qualifier is a 36-hole test to provide two berths for the PGA championship proper July 20-23. . . . We're ready to promote an Ulster County women's seniors, if enough gals 40 and over are willing to admit it. . . . The latest word: there will be no golfing at the fabulous new All America City at Pine Plains this year. . . . Herb Waterous, the course superintendent, said there might be some informal play late in 1967 but not for the general public. . . . With 24 carts available, Wiltwyck Country Club will make a strong bid to host the 1967 Ulster County Seniors, based at Woodstock for the past several years.

LOUIS (CHIC) PROVENZANO returned from Naples, Florida singing the praises of his cousin—Tommy (Zano) Provenzano, former Kingston professional boxer, who migrated to Naples, a booming West Coast Florida community where he became a civic and business leader. Old time boxing buffs will recall Tommy Zano as a sensational prospect until bad hands did him in. But Chic is not awed by Tommy's business skills as by his phenomenal advance as a golfer. Tommy temporarily abandoned his yacht and in six months was shooting consistently in the middle 80's. Chic, incidentally, has returned to the place of business he started — Chic's Rendezvous — in Kingston after several years absence. . . . Nice to have one of the city's finest sportsmen back in our midst.

State Golfers Rout Maritime, 7½ to 1½

State University (New Paltz) golfers crashed the win column for the first time in three starts Tuesday, routing New York State Maritime, 7½ to 1½, at Wiltwyck Country Club.

A long, heavy course sent scores soaring but Coach Doug Sheppard's Hawks had an easy time of it. Several players tied with 86's.

The summaries: Bill Cutler (NP) defeated Ken Kanaster (M), 3 and 2; with Patterson (NJ) State at John Osetek (M) over Mike 1 p. m.

Mostransky (NP), 1 up; NP—best ball, 3 and 2. Jeff Berry (NP) halved with Ken Tapmal, (M), ½-½; Dennis Geisler (NP) d Jim Gilligan (M), 3 and 2; NP—best ball, 2 up.

Bruce Fenger (NP) d Tom Donovan (M), 4 and 2; Kevin Mealia (NP) d Jim Merritt (M), 9 and 7; NP—best ball, 7 and 6.

The Hawks are on the road against Montclair State (NJ) Thursday and at home Friday Ken Kanaster (M), 3 and 2; with Patterson (NJ) State at John Osetek (M) over Mike 1 p. m.

Zappone Fans 14 To Win Over Unbeaten Nine

New Paltz High nipped undefeated (3-0) Pine Bush, 2-1, Tuesday in a UCAL baseball game at New Paltz that had all the ingredients of a Hollywood scenario.

Pitcher Ray Zappone was one of the large New Paltz heroes, figuring in two Huguemot rallies, limiting the Bushmen to six hits and striking out 14 to earn the nod over Rich Alexander.

Zappone knocked in NP's first run in the third and scored the winning tally in the eighth as the winners evened their record at 2-2.

Add centerfielder Jim Schiller to the NP heroes. With the bases loaded and one out in the top of the eighth (first extra inning), Schiller corraled Saxton's fly in centerfield and rifled a perfect throw to home plate nailing the runner for the third out and the ball game.

New Paltz put together three singles in the third, Zappone delivering the RBI behind Ron Bangura and Ted Smith for a 1-0 lead.

Some heads up base running accounted for Pine Bush's equalizer in the 6th. Shortstop Frank Mercurio was safe on an error and Mike Alexander walked. Mercurio took third on a short passed ball. On the next pitch, Alexander headed for second. In the ensuing rundown, Mercurio made it safely home to spoil Zappone's bid for the shutout.

Eighth Inning Bid

A walk to Zanetti and singles by Mercurio and Alexander loaded the bases with one out for Pine Bush in the eighth. Then came the Saxton fly to center and Schiller's brilliant throw.

The end came quickly in the bottom of the eighth. Zappone led off with his second hit of the day, stole second and rode home with the winning run on Vic Wazewski's long blast to center. It was a potential homer but under the rules he was credited with a double.

Zappone, Wazewski and Lynch each collected two hits for New Paltz. The Alexander brothers—Rich and Mike—struck two singles apiece for Pine Bush.

Cornell Track Coach Resigns

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Glenn A. Davis, who shattered Big Ten track records and went on to win two Olympic gold medals, has resigned as head track coach at Cornell University.

Davis, whose resignation is effective June 1, announced his decision Tuesday. He said he plans to enter business in Ohio, his home state.

The 32-year-old athlete won the 400-meter hurdles in the 1956 Olympics and ran the third leg of America's 1,600-meter relay team in the 1960 games. He was graduated in 1959 from Ohio State University, where he was a standout on Buckeye track teams. Davis played one year of professional football in 1961 with the Detroit Lions.

In 1958, Davis was awarded the James E. Sullivan Award, given by the Amateur Athletic Union each year to a top amateur athlete.

Davis was born in Barberton, Ohio, and joined the Cornell coaching staff in 1962. He was named head track coach last year.

No successor was named immediately.

Dodger Relief Ace Shackles Pirates in 11

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Vulture's feathers remain unruffled. Sandy Koufax, Maury Wills and Tommy Davis are gone but Phil (The Vulture) Regan still is around, reminding the Los Angeles Dodgers of the good old days.

Regan, nicknamed The Vulture for the way he swooped down on victories in late-inning relief last year, picked up his first of the season Tuesday night in the Dodgers' 5-3 triumph over Pittsburgh.

It's been almost one full year since Regan lost a game. The last time was May 13, 1966. . . . appropriately enough, a Friday night. That came at Forbes Field and since then, The Vulture has been flying high.

He won 13 straight last season and Tuesday's victory extended his unbeaten appearance string to 66 games — 58 last season and seven this year.

The Pirates had another shot Tuesday and actually tied the game against him when he relieved starter Claude Osteen with one out in the eighth.

Roberto Clemente singled, delivering Wills, now a Pirate, with the tying run. But Regan pitched out of the jam and held Pittsburgh at bay until the 11th when the Dodgers rallied.

Roseboro Starts Rally

John Roseboro opened with a single and when the Pirates failed to field Jim Hickman's bunt, the Dodgers had runners at first and second. A sacrifice moved the runners up and then Wes Parker, batting for Regan, doubled the two runs home.

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday night, the New York Mets rallied for two runs in the bottom of the 12th inning and nipped San Francisco 3-2. Bob Gibson shut out Cincinnati on two hits as St. Louis defeated the Reds 5-0. Houston battered Philadelphia 10-3 and Atlanta stopped Chicago 3-1.

Wills, making his first appearance against his ex-teammates, smacked two hits, scored two runs and stole a base. But even he was unnerved by The Vulture. He singled with one out in the 10th but then was thrown out stealing—his first miss after six swipes this season.

Al Ferrara homered for the Dodgers.

Kranepool Wins

Ed Kranepool, who had homered earlier, tripled home the tying run for the Mets in the 12th inning and then pinch hitter John Sullivan's single delivered the winner against San Francisco.

The Giants, who turned in the season's first triple play in the second inning, had taken the lead in the top of the 12th on Willie Mays' two-out single following a leadoff double by Hal Lanier.

Gibson struck out 12 Reds and ran his record to 4-1 as the Cardinals ended a four-game losing streak. It was the second time this season that the ace right-hander has fanned 10 or more batters.

Mike Shannon drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double in the fifth inning after Jim Maloney had walked three straight batters. Maloney, 1-1, also made three wild pitches, one of which allowed a run to score.

Rico Carty smashed a three-run homer, one of only three hits by the Braves, as Atlanta topped Chicago 3-1. Carty's shot in the second inning followed walks to Mack Jones and Joe Torre by Ferguson Jenkins, 3-1. Rusty Staub drove in four runs with three hits and Houston rallied for eight runs in the eighth inning and a 10-3 victory over Philadelphia. Bob Aspromonte tagged a three-run homer for the Astros.

Tuesday's Results
Toronto 3, Montreal 1, Toronto wins best-of-7 series 4-2

Gump Worsley, who made 33 saves in the Montreal net, was pulled out in the last minute of play and George Armstrong scored Toronto's last goal into an empty net with only 47 seconds left.

Pappin's goal, which turned out to be the winning one, first was credited to Pete Stenkowski. An official correction was made just before the end of the game.

The victory climaxed a Toronto comeback that started after the Leafs had lost 10 straight games midway of the regular NHL season and appeared out of the playoffs.

They rallied to finish third behind Chicago and Montreal and then beat Chicago in the semifinal playoffs, four games to two.

Sawchuk's goal tending was credited with a major role in Toronto's success against Chicago, too.

"They have to be the best hockey players I've ever had," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlach. "I have to thank every-

Frost Covered Sod Leaves Yanks Cold

By DICK COUCH

Associated Sports Writer

Charlie Finley's snow-colored playshoes inspired the Washington Senators but Cal Griffith's frost-covered playground left the New York Yankees cold.

The Senators, aroused by the white kangaroo footwear introduced by owner Finley at Kansas City this spring, donned white caps and socks before splitting 1-0 shutouts with the Athletics in a doubleheader Tuesday night.

The Yankees, meanwhile, shivered through a 13-4 setback in Minnesota's sub-freezing weather after Twins' President Griffith decided against a postponement.

California edged Boston 3-2 behind Jim McGlothlin's three-hitter in the only other American League action. The Detroit-Chicago and Baltimore-Cleveland games were rained out.

George Selkirk, Washington's general manager, came up with the idea of going white-on-white against the Athletics, who survived an opening-day protest by Cleveland Manager Joe Adcock that their white shoes distracted opposing batters.

The Senators took batting practice in their regular dark caps and red and blue stockings, then slipped into the clubhouse and emerged in their new regalia.

Southpaw Pete Richert, working 7 1-3 innings, and two relievers then whitewashed the A's on two hits in the twilight opener, decided by Ken McMullen's run-scoring single in the sixth. But Kansas City rebounded behind night-hander Jim (Cotton) Hunter, who scattered seven hits, and an RBI single by Dick Green in the sixth to snap the Senators' winning string at four games.

32 Degree Temperature

In Minnesota, a combination of 13 Minnesota hits, four New York errors and temperatures that ranged from 32 degrees at the start to 29 at the finish took its toll on the Yankees.

"This is ridiculous," snorted relief pitcher Steve Hamilton, the Yankees' player representative. "We've got to have a rule you don't play in this kind of weather. Somebody has got to take responsibility for this."

Manager Ralph Houk, however, was philosophical about the decision to play the game. "We both had to play in it," Houk said. "It was as fair for one team as the other. If they say 'Play,' we play."

It was the coldest weather in which a game has gone on in Minnesota since the Twins entered the league in 1961. Monday night's scheduled game between the clubs had been postponed because of 40-degree temperatures, strong winds and sporadic rain.

The Twins rocked Yankee starter Fritz Peterson for six runs in the first inning, enabling Dean Chance to breeze to an easy victory. Chance pitched six innings before his arm tightened up and Al Worthington finished up.

Harmon Killebrew and rookie Ron Clark drove in three runs apiece for the winners while Tom Tresh homered for New York.

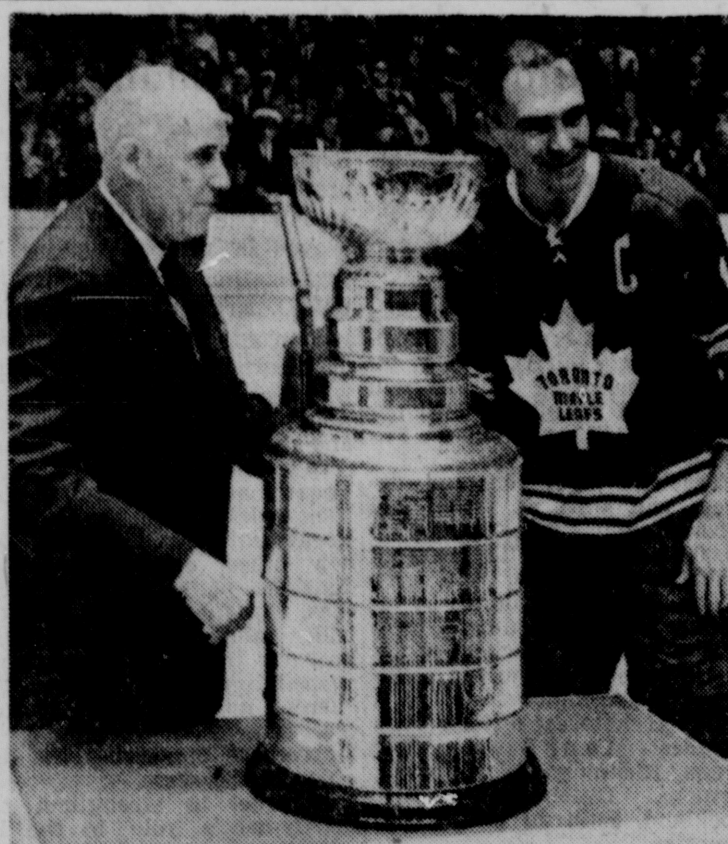

McGlothlin, a 24-year-old right-hander, retired the Red Sox in order until the seventh, when he walked Mike Andrews with one out. Carl Yastrzemski followed with a double and Andrews scored on a sacrifice fly, trimming California's lead to 3-1.

George Scott homered for the Red Sox in the eighth and Tony Conigliaro singled with two out in the ninth.

McGlothlin struck out 11 and drove in the Angels' first run with a third inning single. In the fourth, Jim Fregosi's homer and Jimmie Hall's run-scoring double boosted the lead to 3-0.

Toronto Leafs Rule Professional Hockey

TORONTO (AP) — Terry Sawchuk, veteran 37-year-old goalie who was benched, vindicated himself and brought the Stanley Cup back to the Toronto Maple Leafs.

It was Sawchuk's inspired goal tending that was the key to Toronto's 3-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens Tuesday night that gave the Leafs the coveted Cup, symbolic of world hockey supremacy.

Toronto won the best-of-7 final National Hockey League playoff series, four games to two, and ended Montreal's two-year reign as Cup champions. The Leafs had won the Cup three straight years before Montreal took it in 1965.

Sawchuk was benched after Montreal won the first game of the series. He was replaced by another veteran goalie, 42-year-old Johnny Bower, who starred as the Leafs won the next two games.

Sawchuk got a second chance when Bower injured his thigh muscle in the pre-game warmup before the fourth game. Montreal beat him again to even the series.

He was superb against the Canadiens Tuesday night and the crowd of 15,977 gave him a standing ovation when the game ended.

He came up with the key saves," said Jean Beliveau, the Montreal captain. "There were three or four shots early in the game you could usually count on as goals."

Toe Blake, the Montreal coach, added: "The Toronto one."

Capitol Five Leads in WIBC

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — General Bowling Corp. of Washington D.C. raced into the Division I lead of the women's International Bowling Congress Tournament Tuesday night by shooting a 2782, 35 pins better than Pick Carter Hotel of Cleveland, Ohio.

Aileen Rogers hit 199-201-198—598 to lead the team from the nation's capital, and Betty Cook had 220 and 203 games in her 570 series. General Bowling, which averages 856, hit 963, 946 and 873.

Jean Stehle, 18, of Sturgis, Mich., who nearly did not come to the tournament because she had pneumonia last month, rolled 602 in doubles and 632 in singles late Monday night. She was assessed the unofficial all-events leader at 1776 Tuesday.

Escorted by her parents, the high school senior and honor student, also reached second place in Division I singles with her games of 219, 222 and 191. Miss Stehle averages 184.

Official changes in the all-events category Tuesday indicated Pat Murray of Cincinnati was second in Division I at 1731, and Shirley Tierney of Ossining, N.Y., was 10th at 1679.

In Division II all-events, Laura Bliler of Ellicottville, N.Y., had 1617 for second place, Helen Thomas of Davenport, Ia., 1587 for fourth and Kaaren Anderson of Los Angeles 1577 for fifth.

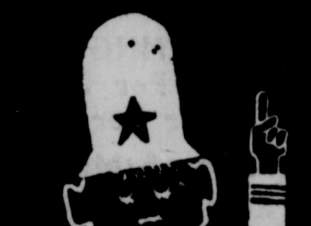

Joan McCowan of Fillmore, N.Y., bowled 223-158-210—591 for third place in Division II singles and Lois Strickland of Roanoke Rapids, N.C., 162-234-170—566 for 10th.

A new fourth-place twosome in Division II doubles occurred when Ellen Keeten of Roanoke Rapids, and Dot Keeten of Newport News, Va., sisters-in-law, shot 1053.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Construction has started on the public housing development that will be the home for about 12,000 athletes during the 1968 Olympic Games here. The Olympic Village is expected to be completed in May 1968, about five months before the start of the Games.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Al Evans, an assistant coach at the University of Wisconsin last season, has been signed in a similar capacity by the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League.

NEW YORK (AP) — Vince Lombardi, coach of the National Football League's Green Bay Packers, will receive Fordham University's Insignia Medal for outstanding achievement next Monday. Fordham is Lombardi's alma mater.

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Donny Horne, Waco Richfield High School pitcher, struck out 33 batters in 15 innings Tuesday night.

If that isn't a record for any kind of baseball, Wacoans would like to hear about it.
Horne pitched a six-hitter and his team beat Corsicana 3-2. The two Corsicana runs were unearned. Horne earlier pitched a no-hitter.

Saugerties Patrolman

Is Suspended 72 Hours

The tempest in a teapot created when Village of Saugerties patrolman, Harry Vickery, was suspended from active duty for 72 hours for insubordination, was apparently resolved today with the announcement that Vickery will return to duty tonight at 8 o'clock.

Saugerties Chief of Police Gordon Keeley advised the Village Board Monday night that he had suspended Vickery as of 4 p. m. that day for a period of 72 hours for "insubordination, direct infraction of an order, and for using foul language." The suspension, he said, was in accordance with Village Police Department regulations dating back to 1964. In notifying the board of his action, Keeley made available to trustees a copy of the notice he had served on the patrolman.

Reads Documents

In order to clarify the controversy surrounding the case, Police Commissioner Charles Steele rose to read all documents pertinent to the incident in chronological order. These included: a memo from the Chief of Police to all Police Department officers, which was posted on the police bulletin board as of April 15 of this year and was in reference to eating in the local police station.

Commissioner Steele also read a memo given to him at his place of business which advised him that Patrolman Vickery had called him at 1 p. m. on Monday, April 24, and asked that his call be returned. Steele said that, due to pressure of business that day, he had not received the message until 5 p. m. and, since he knew Vickery had finished his shift by that time, he did not return the call, assuming that whatever situation had arisen had been handled.

Steele also introduced a memo from Police Chief Keeley, dated April 24 and addressed to the Commissioner, advising that after he posted the "no eating" notice on the bulletin board, he had warned Vickery on three subsequent occasions that he was eating at the desk against regulations. Keeley charged that when he criticized Vickery for eating cake at his desk on April 24, the patrolman used "foul language and ordered him (the chief) from the station house."

Ruling Given In Death of Paltz Woman

Mrs. Louise Kullig, 75-year old New Paltz resident died from a heart attack brought on by excitement and over-exertion while attempting to extinguish a brush fire Monday afternoon.

Coroner William S. Keyser has issued a verdict of accidental death. Mrs. Kullig of Box 219, Route 32 north, New Paltz, had been burning trash at her home when fire spread to adjacent brush. In an attempt to extinguish the fire she was seized with a heart attack and died. An autopsy revealed no carbon monoxide in the lungs. At first it was believed she had died from suffocation. The body was found, badly burned, when New Paltz firemen arrived at the scene.

There are no survivors. The death was investigated by State Police and Coroner Keyser of Kingston. Funeral services were held in New York.

Rochester Man Killed

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP)—William A. Dodsworth, 36, of Rochester, was struck and killed Tuesday night by an auto after telephoning about an accident involving his own vehicle just north of this Finger Lakes city. Police said Dodsworth's auto had been involved in a two-car collision. He reported it to authorities and was returning to his car when he was struck on Rochester Road.

His address was 46 Vassar St. The North African zebra was among the wild animals exhibited in Rome's ancient amphitheatres. It was called a hippogriff.

Florida Drought Hits Livestock: To Ask U. S. Aid

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Beef cattle, fenced into drought-battered rangelands, are starving to death as Florida's worst drought in a quarter century continued in spite of prayer and science.

Cows that survive the lack of feed are going to market 50 pounds skinner than usual, according to the Florida agriculture commissioner, Doyle E. Conner. The cattle industry will suffer a $5-million loss that will raise the price of beef.

None Since March

Most of Florida—virtually the entire peninsula—has been without rain since early March while the sun poured daily with temperatures pushing 90.

Cattlemen want the state to declare a disaster area.

In a new five-day forecast issued Tuesday the Weather Bureau in Miami said no rain was in sight.

"My own ranch is parching," Conner said. "It's the worst drought I have seen in years." He said the death toll was "sizeable."

Arthur L. Higbie Jr., executive vice president of the cattlemen's association, called it a "disaster" for ranchers.

"The calf crop is in deep trouble as a result of the turned grasslands since they can't eat anything else," Higbie said.

Higbie said his association has voted to ask the federal government to open the way for low interest federal loans and extension of outstanding paper.

Dry 70 Days

The Cape Kennedy area has been dry for 70 days, Tampa broke drought records set in 1898.

In the Orlando area county commissioners voted a fire emergency which will ban open fires to prevent the spread of flame to tinder-dry woodlands.

Gov. Claude Kirk recently signed a similar proclamation for Polk County in the citrus belt.

Key West officials were rushing to completion the 2.2-million gallons a day desalination plant which had been scheduled to open early in March. The island chain, surrounded by salty ocean, has only the 18-inch pipeline from the mainland as a water supply.

Last Sunday a Baptist congregation in Lake Alfred prayed for rain.
